ONE OF MANY HUMOROUS SCENES IN PRODUCTION OF "DOVER ROAD"

Miss Helen McPeak, as Anne, the would-be bride; Warren Fletcher, as "My Lord" Leonard, and Jack Hayden, as Mr. Latimer, the eccentric millionaire, who has found an entirely new way to spend his money to make people happy. All will make their appearance, next Wednesday night, in the Ebell auditorium, in the first performance of "The Dover Road," Santa Ana Community Players' offering.

Prospective Husband Faces Ordeal As Fiancee Walks In

To be shown to his prospective bride, clad in a disreputable bathrobe and in the midst of satisfying the pangs of a healthy appetite—what Romeo would care to risk such a test of affection?

Few, if any, of the patrons of Santa Ana Community Players' productions may have been called upon to face such conditions, but never a one but will enjoy seeing "The Dover Road," rise above such a handicap in that delightful English comedy, when it is presented next week (February 3, 4, 5 and 6) in the Ebell auditorium.

"Leonard," leading juvenile in the comedy, will be portrayed by Warren Fletcher and those who have witnessed rehearsals conducted nightly by Miss Eloise Sterling, Community Play director, declare that the part might have been written for him, so cleverly does he sink his own individuality and personality into that of the eloping Don Juan.

Of equal interest will be the reactions of "Anne," Leonard's would-be bride, interpreted by Miss Helen McPeak, as she faces her lover in the revealing light thrown upon him by "Mr. Latimer," principal character of "The Dover Road." Latimer will serve to introduce a newcomer to the Players, Jack Hayden, who will portray that eccentric Englishman, whose wealth is being devoted to an unusual cause. What that cause is, and how it gives rise to one amusing and amazing situation after another, will be disclosed at the production of the play and not before.

In "Nicholas," the typical young Briton, with love affairs of his own, Jack Bascom has a difficult role, to which he is proving entirely equal, according to the director, Robert Speed, plays "Dominic," Latimer's butler and co-conspirator, and will bring a wide experience in amateur theatricals to his interpretation.

Seats now are on sale for the four performances to be given. Season ticket holders will be able to make reservations tomorrow and Saturday, while the general seat sale will open Monday.

No Foundation To Neglect Charges

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Charges of mismanagement and neglect of Indians against Charles H. Burke U. S. commissioner of Indian affairs, and Shade E. Wallen, superintendent of the five civilized tribes were found without foundation in a partial report submitted to Secretary of the Interior Work today by the board of Indian commissioners.

Court Notes

Two Suits Dismissed
Dismissal of two suits, brought by the Mazda Oil company, against Charles B. Behr, oil operator, involving oil land and a drilling outfit in Huntington Beach, was announced today, as the cases came up for trial in Superior Judge E. J. Marks' court. Recovery of the drilling equipment or its money equivalent, $10,000, was sought in one action. The other suit demanded an accounting of profits derived from property leased to Behr in September, 1924, and also asked a decree quieting title.

To Quiet Title
John G. Young and Mary J. Monroe today had a suit on file in superior court against George Aldahl and others, to quiet title to Huntington Beach oil property. Attorneys James W. Bucklin and Walter Desmond, of Long Beach, represent the plaintiffs.

Petition Is Filed
Karl Hansen, of Arch Beach, today had filed a petition in superior court to probate the will of his deceased wife, Florence Peet Hansen, who left an $8000 estate to her husband. The deceased's portion of her father's estate goes to her daughter, Lucile Walden, of Savannah, Ga.

Daniel W. Huston today petitioned the superior court to probate the will of his wife, the late Eva Huston, who died in Huntington Beach last August 26. The estate, valued at $1000, was left to the husband.

SHIP'S CREW WINS FIGHT WITH DEATH

The leader in this march to port is the Nord Deutscher Lloyd liner Bremen. The hurricane had cheated her of her rescue of most of the Lascar crew aboard the crippled British freighter Laristan, now keeping company with other derelicts at the ocean bottom.

The other, the President Roosevelt, bears 25 men of the ill-fated British tramp freighter Antinoo, snatched away from their water-logged and sinking craft after Captain Fried had launched five lifeboats, only to see them crash against the sinking bulk or capsize in seas rolling mountainously.

To save them, two of the Roosevelt's own men perished.

Praise for Captains
To farers of the sea and to folk who know only the land, the stories of the daring Teuton, Captain Wurtis, of the Bremen, and his more fortunate colleague, American Captain Fried, of the Roosevelt, sounded an epic of praise for them and their men.

Wurtis brings with him six of the Laristan crew, taken off earlier, but the most of her crew perished with the ship while the Bremen waited for a chance to get to her again. Wreckage on the seas told the skipper that he had been beaten, except for the little group of rescued.

Queenstown is ready to give the Antinoo survivors a royal welcome when they put in Saturday or Sunday.

Fried's fight with the seas is unparalleled since the war. His first lifeboat crashed and two men perished. Then one after the other he put forth four more boats, only to see them wrecked or gobbled up by raging seas like matchwood chips.

Remember Sea Traditions
Fried had trained during earlier days with the navy. The best traditions of the sea were in his blood. He would sling to his task until the men were taken off or until the hurricane-tossed ocean had gulped them down.

In the early hours of the morning, a lifeboat finally got for the second time to the Antinoo, which still held 13 luckless sailors, 12 of their companions were already safely aboard the Roosevelt, snatched away in an earlier dash.

BRITISH STEAMER DRIFTING IN STORM

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The British steamer Errington Court has wireless from midway between England and Newfoundland that her steering gear was out of order and that she had been drifting in a storm since Sunday. The gear was being repaired temporarily.

ICE TRAPS EIGHT ON FISHING TUGS

MUSKEGON, Mich., Jan. 28.—Muskegon coast guardsmen today battled a gale in an effort to rescue eight men, ice-locked a mile offshore on board two fishing tugs, the Helen N. and the Indian. Because of the gale and the ice-blocked condition of Lake Michigan in the vicinity of the stranded craft, it was feared the two tugs might be crumpled by the weight of ice.

PACIFIC LINER IS BATTERED BY STORM

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 28.—Storms raging in the north Pacific have battered and delayed the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia four days on its trip from the Orient.

WORLD COURT TO BE ISSUE IN ELECTION

The United States will become a party to the court when these reservations are accepted by the nations.

List of Reservations

The reservations are:
1—The United States undertakes no legal relation with the League of Nations, which elects judges of the court, nor does it assume any obligations under the Versailles treaty, which this country refused to ratify.

2—This country is to be given equality with other nations in the selection of judges by the council and the assembly of the league.

3—A fair share of the expenses of the court will be paid by the United States.

4—At any time this country may withdraw from the court, and no amendments can be made to the present regulations of the court without the consent of the United States.

Public Advisory Opinions
5—The court shall render no advisory opinions except publicly and after a public hearing for parties to the question; nor shall it entertain any suggestion for advice upon a question in which the United States claims an interest unless the United States gives its permission.

The reservations go further than those first suggested by former Secretary of State Hughes and sanctioned by President Coolidge.

The senate machinery for sending the approved protocol and resolution to President Coolidge for signature probably will take a few days. After Coolidge has signed the documents, they will be sent to the state department for transmission abroad.

ASK RATE REHEARING
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The principal carriers of the west coast, including the Santa Fe and the Southern Pacific, petitioned today for reopening and hearing of the commission's recent decision on fruits and vegetable rates between west coast points.

BLOODTHIRSTY MAN WITH BIG KNIFE IS SHOT

Brandishing a butcher knife with which he attempted to attack all persons who approached him, and violently hurling stones at panic-stricken men, women and children, an unidentified man, believed to be an escaped lunatic from the Norwalk state hospital for insane, was shot at 11 a. m., today by Sgt. Roy Green of the Fullerton police force.

The man ran amuck near a service station at Northam station, and for a half hour kept terrified residents of the vicinity at bay with his threats, until Sergeant Green and Traffic Officer Ross Rudy, summoned by telephone, arrived from Fullerton. Efforts of the officers to capture the man were fruitless until they finally opened fire on him, shooting him twice through the shoulder and laying him low.

The man was taken to a hospital in Fullerton, where his wounds were given attention, and then transferred to the Orange county hospital. At last reports, he was unconscious.

enough to come back a day later and confess. The difference was that when he did the one he was drunk and when he did the other he was sober. The courage to face the consequence was there, but not while it was fuddled by alcohol.

The drunken driver does not know he is driving recklessly. He does not care whether he obeys the law. He is not afraid of risks or deterred by penalties. He has not character enough to take responsibility. He does not even know that he is drunk. He thinks he is sober.

FRUITLESS RAID ON SAN CLEMENTE ISLAND PROVES LIQUOR RUMORS ARE FALSE

Blasting the theory that San Clemente island, lying 40 miles off the Orange county coast, is a rendezvous for bootleggers and that the numerous coves along its coast line are used to cache thousands of dollars worth of foreign liquors, federal dry agents, together with a number of Orange and Los Angeles county deputy sheriffs, returned to the mainland late last night, empty handed, after spending all day yesterday in a raid on the island.

Ever since the Volstead act went into effect, numerous rumors have been heard from time to time that San Clemente island was the depot used for storing thousands of cases of rum and that after large vessels had landed their illegal cargoes there, smaller boats would go there and bring it to the mainland.

Every fishing vessel along the island's coast was stopped and searched. Coves were searched and the few houses and shacks on the island were visited by the raiding officers, but not a quart of liquor was found, according to Orange county officers, who were back on duty here this morning.

Ray Adams, general field man for the prohibition forces in Southern California, with 12 federal officers, were aided in the raid by 13 deputy sheriffs of Los Angeles county and three deputy sheriffs from Orange county. The Santa Ana officers were Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, Jesse Elliott and Jack Coombs.

The officers left San Pedro aboard the Bear, a government boat, and the Vaughn, a former sub chaser, late Tuesday night, arriving at the island at day-break yesterday morning. There they were met by the coast guard boats 235 and 255 and raided one place after another as fast as possible.

One of the boats circled the island, raiding fishing vessels, while an armed force marched through the island, searching in vain for hidden liquor.

It is the first time that San Clemente island has ever been raided by government officers, it was said.

Movie Chatterbox

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—What price freedom?

Any price your pocketbook can stand, says Paris to American divorce seekers.

But the pocketbook must be fairly fat in the beginning, for a good, durable decree, delivered within two weeks or so, comes anywhere between $500 and $25,000. And there are whispers of still higher sums paid by American millionaires for their freedom.

Is it worth the price? Ask Gloria Swanson or Harold McCormick or Peggy Hopkins Joyce. They know.

Mae Murray, arriving from France the other day, says that a Paris divorce is cheap at any price. And Mae knows too. She just got her decree in a record time of 16 days.

He Gets Them
But for the final authority on Paris divorces, Leslie R. Natfger, Paris member of the law firm of Dudley Field Malone, stands alone. He has been the man behind the guns in most of the prominent American suits, including the Swanson, McCormick and Murray cases.

"The Paris divorce is the most perfect and just divorce in the world," declares Mr. Natfger, who is now on his yearly visit to the United States.

"The attitude of the French law toward marital troubles is characterized by a practical common sense which American law lacks."

"French law says that if two persons no longer wish to be married, they should be released to form new attachments."

"The French recognize the fact that two persons bound only by law to each other are liable to go their own way toward un-sanctioned amours which endanger the health and security of society."

No Man
"If the divorced woman bears a stigma in France, it is not because of the divorce, but simply because she is a manless woman—the most pitiable object a Frenchman can imagine. The same pity and contempt attach to spinsters and widows, to some extent."

French law makes divorce as scandal-proof as possible. For example, the law requires such perfect proof of infidelity that unfaithfulness is seldom charged as grounds for divorce.

The usual grounds, according to Natfger, is cruel and inhuman treatment, which covers a multitude of marital sins that would not look pretty in court records.

"Another advantage of the French system," he says, "is that the judge actually appoints a time for meeting both parties and attempting to effect a reconciliation, before the case is allowed to go into court at all."

Failure of the defendant to appear at this meeting constitutes grounds for divorce. The law regards it as the supreme insult to the mate.

If no reconciliation is secured, the trial date is set, with much less delay than in American courts. There is no reason for bringing shocking evidence into court, or for faking evidence. Simply the proof of incompatibility is enough.

RECKLESS AUTO DRIVER AWAITS COURT DECISION

Charged with reckless driving, in connection with his running down of William Gebb, 74, with an automobile, on North Main street, January 19, M. R. Ary, Santa Ana automobile salesman, today awaits sentence in Judge J. F. Talbot's court, following his plea of guilty yesterday.

Ary was brought before Justice Kenneth Harrison yesterday morning on a charge of failure to give aid after the accident and the case was dismissed for lack of evidence. Ary then was rearrested by city officers and cited to Judge Talbot's court.

The man pleaded not guilty in Talbot's court and was released on his own recognizance and trial set for February 3. Ary, however, returned in a short time, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty and the judge announced he would withhold sentence until February 3.

Gebb was knocked down by Ary's auto, as he stepped from a street car, and was painfully injured, it was said.

A Bank Big Enough for Santa Ana and Orange County

The First National Trust Department, located on the Second Floor, offers our patrons modern trust service, performing in all useful capacities.

The Safety Deposit Vaults are of the latest scientific construction; consultation rooms adjoining, for 5 to 25 persons; boxes at $2.50 per year and up.

The Collection Department is purely a service feature; notes, payments of all kinds, collected and accounting made to customers. Small reasonable charge.

The officers of the First National Bank are at your service; they are easy to be seen; ready to help; and deeply concerned in the individual welfare of all customers.

THE First National Bank of Santa Ana has ALWAYS been big enough to serve Santa Ana and Orange County as this remarkable community deserved to be served. That was the ideal behind its conception and growth, and its realization is a matter of its 40 years of history.

This active community has had a bank commensurate with its needs from the early beginnings of the First National Bank. The founders kept that ideal before them and it was never a more dominating one than it is today—that the First National Bank would ALWAYS measure up to the greatness of Santa Ana and surrounding territory.

The splendid physical facilities, the new building and its equipment, are outward expressions of that ideal. But it is the BANK that counts—the building provides many comforts and better media for service, but the Bank is the repository of all hopes and ideals for a financial service that will ever be big enough for the greatest county on earth.

A Lost FORTUNE— A Strange ACCIDENT— A Brave GIRL—

"You remember how carefully Dad always drove his car, don't you?" Ethel asked.
"I remember he was a careful driver, yes. Had to be, in a way—seeing he was Judge," replied Mr. Briggs.
"Well, then," said Ethel earnestly, "didn't it ever strike you that there was something queer about his accident?"

This accident is the crux of the story. At the death of Judge Marland, Ethel, a daughter by his first wife, returns East. She finds Aunt Myra, a sister of the Judge's second wife tyrannizing over her step-brothers and step-sisters. Then Aunt Myra disappears. Trust funds handled by the Judge also vanish. Read the thrilling old-fashioned romance, full of action and intrigue, written by George Weston, author of "The Beauty Prize." "The Wondering Moon" begins in February.

LEGIONNAIRES HERE AROUSED BY PEACE MOVE

Included in today's developments of the controversy, which has arisen in the city, over the so-called "Fellowship of Youth for Peace" movement, among students in the Santa Ana Junior college, was a report, today, that cognizance of the matter has been taken by two organizations, the American Legion and the Santa Ana Ministerial union.

According to Joseph A. Plank, a prominent legionnaire, the Santa Ana post of the American Legion is taking exception to the pacifist propaganda disseminated by one of the instructors in the Santa Ana Junior college. Decided exception is being taken to an alleged criticism of the war department by the college instructor.

In this connection, it was added that, at tonight's meeting of the legion, resolutions, condemning the pacifist propaganda, and censuring the instructor, will be introduced for consideration.

Reports were current today about the city that the Santa Ana Ministerial union, at a meeting held yesterday at the Y. M. C. A., discussed the recent action of the Santa Ana board of education, disapproving of the fellowship for peace movement in the public schools. A committee, composed of the Rev. Will A. Betts, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church; the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, and the Rev. William E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was appointed to make a thorough investigation of all the phases and circumstances relating to the "Fellowship of Youth for Peace" movement.

Capital Letter

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—An American has been given command of the Liberian army. An Afro-American, at that.

What's more, he's a good soldier. The war department in Washington testifies to it and the war department knows, for he's served under the Stars and Stripes since 1915. The new head of the Liberian military establishment is Hansen Outley, late sergeant in the ninth U. S. cavalry, World war veteran, and all that.

Outley was in Washington recently getting himself discharged from the ninth, securing a passport and winding up his other American affairs, with a view to a long stay abroad.

This is the first time an American negro has been handed an army command and war department folks were a lot interested, as they were at the department of state, too.

Outley has a first class military record and his superiors were glad to fix matters to enable him to accept his Liberian offer, though sorry to see him go.

Originally General (formerly Sergeant) Outley is from Houston, Tex. He worked as a chauffeur and electrician before enlisting in the 349th field artillery at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., in September, 1915, when he was 23 years old.

During America's participation in the World war he had a hand in all the fighting on the St. Die sector and the fact that he won his way to a sergeantcy speaks for itself.

After the war he was shifted to the cavalry army and was stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., when he received Liberia's call.

Liberia may have a "comic opera army" now—mostly generals, all tinsel and gold lace—but when Commander-in-Chief (formerly Sergeant) Hansen Outley gets through with it—oh my!

Hansen was sent for especially to reorganize that army, and if what they say about him at the war department counts for anything, he sure will.

Hansen, as a sergeant, proved himself a disciplinarian who certainly knows what discipline means. "Shucks 'or the panoply of war!" is his motto. He wants the goods.

All this isn't by way of making fun of Hansen.

He's a fine upstanding dandy, and with each and every record of the completion of his successive terms of enlistment the notation "character excellent" appears.

The war department honestly feels proud of having turned out a negro sergeant who's considered equal to lead an army in the field and doesn't doubt he'll do a good job.

The Liberian army is more a gendarme than an army anyway.

It has a whole jufull of most unpleasant savages and other highly undesirable critters to keep back which can best be done by a corps of rough riders, quick on the draw and armed with sabers of razzuah edge.

Here's a task at which Commander-in-Chief (formerly Sergeant) Hansen Outley ought to shine.

Next address: Monrovia, Liberia.

AMERICAN FANS OF ETHER WAVE FAL IN QUEST

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—With a wall of static that has effectually barred Europe and America, as far as radio communications are concerned, the radio committee today admitted its discouragement over the results of International Broadcast week.

Little more success was had by listeners who strained their ears to hear European cities last night than has been had on the previous days.

Air conditions were slightly more favorable last night than they have been at any time during the week of the test.

South America continued to come in with clarity and volume, but few fans reported authentic reception of European stations.

The final opportunity for Americans to tune in trans-Atlantic programs under complete silence conditions comes tonight. Practically all German, Austrian and South American stations will participate, as will ELO, London, and stations in Glasgow and Plymouth.

Court Notes

Anaheim Man Appeals
W. H. McGraw, defendant in a suit brought in Anaheim justice court by Lytel D. Larsen, today had appealed to superior court from Justice Charles Kuchel's decision, awarding Larsen $299.99 as a realty commission. Larsen claimed to have arranged an exchange of McGraw's property in Santa Ana for land in Tehama county, but the commission was refused him, he alleged. Justice Kuchel held that he could be paid. Attorney William P. Webb pr. of Anaheim, represented Larsen, with Attorney D. G. Wetlin appearing for McGraw.

Seeks Crash Damages
S. Koeppele was plaintiff in a superior court suit, on file today, against Catherine and E. Valdez, demanding judgment for $551.50 damages, in connection with an automobile accident. The crash took place at La Veta and Prospect avenues, near Orange, last September 10. Edith and Lillie McGowen, owners of the car damaged, assigned their claim to Koeppele.

Selection is Deferred
The county supervisors Tuesday deferred until its next meeting, the selection of 160 names of citizens for trial jury service in the superior court during 1926. The list was not completed yesterday.

Church Would Mortgage
The People's church, of Anaheim, had a petition on file in superior court today asking leave to mortgage its real estate in Anaheim in order to clear a $4000 debt upon the property. President D. W. Anderson and Secretary Minnie A. Wilkins, of the church board, signed the petition.

Asks Marriage Annulment
Because his wife, he alleges, was not divorced from her first husband at the time she married the plaintiff, W. P. Smith today had a suit on file in superior court to annul his marriage to Estna Smith. The marriage took place Jan. 30, 1925, at Bakersfield. Attorney Kenneth H. Burns represents Smith.

Crash Damages Denied
Superior Judge Z. B. West yesterday denied a damage claim filed by Oliver Marriott in a suit brought against C. G. White, Frances Corcoran and her father, F. F. Corcoran. Marriott asked $500 damages on account of an automobile collision at Pine and Parton streets, May 2, 1924. Miss Corcoran, a high school girl, was driving White's car, which collided with the Marriott machine. Miss Josephine Crookshank, a schoolmate, was riding with her.

Both girls testified at the trial in Judge Marks' court. The defense contended that the collision was due as much to Marriott's negligence as any other cause. Marriott declared that Miss Corcoran had been guilty of negligent driving. The court declined to award judgment to either side.

Attorney Milburn Harvey represented Marriott in the case. Attorney Clifford P. Grau, Los Angeles, appearing for the defense.

Leaves $4250 Estate
The late Henry W. Smith, of Tustin, left a $4250 estate, consisting of Tustin residence property, to his widow. It was shown today in a superior court petition to probate the will, filed by I. L. Marchant, of Tustin.

Cruelty is Charged
In a complaint, charging cruelty, Mrs. Eleanor Blythe today had a suit for divorce on file in superior court.

Says His Prescription
Has Powerful Influence

Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes street, Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allen's, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed C. S. Kelley Drug Co. and druggists everywhere to dispense Allen's with the understanding that if his prescription does not banish every sign and symptom of the disease he will return your money without comment.—Adv.

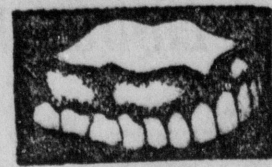

court against Dr. Vernon Blythe, prominent Santa Ana dentist. Mrs. Blythe asks custody of the two Blythe children, one of whom is living with the father. The Blythes separated last Saturday, according to the complaint, which states that they were married in Long Beach, in 1918. They came to Santa Ana in 1924.

Second Wife Sues.
George S. Raymond not only had one wife when he married Mary S. Raymond, but he failed to support his second, according to the divorce complaint of Mary, which was filed today in superior court. Attorneys Bishop and Wellington, Santa Ana, represent her. She married the defendant in Tombstone, Ariz., in 1916.

Bank Is Plaintiff.
The Security Commercial and Savings bank of San Diego, is plaintiff in an action, which has just been transferred from San Diego to Orange county superior court, by H. J. Feldner, of West Orange, who is the defendant. The suit asks judgment for $1065.67, alleged to be due on three promissory notes.

When your child has Croup

IN cases of spasmodic croup or kiddies' colds, the child's suffering and your anxiety will find quick relief through the soothing, healing, medicated vapors of Vicks VapoRub.

When Vicks is rubbed over throat and chest at bedtime it acts in two ways at once:

- (1) It is vaporized by the body heat and inhaled direct to the inflamed air passages and lungs, loosening the phlegm and easing the cough; and
- (2) At the same time it warms and stimulates the skin like a poultice, "drawing out" the soreness and pain.

Colds are usually better by morning and a cough is often relieved with one application.

Betrothals Weddings Receptions

Gay Surprise Planned As Farewell Event For Nephew

Planned as a farewell courtesy to their nephew, Mervin Bose who has been their house-guest for the past several weeks, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Bose of 1318 West First street, entertained delightfully last night, making the party a surprise for the honor guest.

Varied entertainment was offered the young people gathered for the gay affair for cards, music, guessing contests and dancing were all featured. In one particularly lively guessing game, the side captain by Miss Eva Jane Hayes was victorious and received a box of candy as reward. A special feature was an exhibition Charleston by Miss Laura McCombie whose skill and grace made the dance an unusual event. Iced punch served throughout the evening, offered refreshments to the guests.

At 11 o'clock Mrs. Bose assisted by her daughter, Miss June Bose, Miss Eva Jane Hayes, Miss Margaret Burris and Mrs. W. J. Burris, arranged the card table for serving a delectable two-course supper to which the floral decorations of the home gave a colorful charm.

Mervin Bose for whom the surprise was arranged, is expecting to complete his visit soon and return to his home in Orleans, Neb. He has made hosts of friends here who will regret to see him leave.

Among those gathered for the farewell party in his honor were the Misses Doris McClain, Eva Jane Hayes, June Bose, Ethelda Withrow of Garden Grove, Berenice Kiser of Tustin, Laura McCombie, Corinne Cabot of Orange, Angela Yost, Dorothy Seelye, Della Shoen, Messrs. ### Scots Present Enjoyable Party

One of their enjoyable dancing parties was presented last night by the Santa Ana Scots at their meeting place, El Camino hall, where hosts and guests alike were surprised by the advent of the uniform band of the Pasadena Scots.

The visitors, in handsome and colorful costumes of red velvet, Turkish trousers and green velvet coats and sashes, made a striking appearance and added to the pleasure of the evening by presenting a program of stirring melodies.

The DeMolay orchestra offered an interesting dance program with "peppy" music, generous encores and excellent time. As an added feature two graceful young dancers, Miss Doris Dvart and Edwin Vieira, presented feature dances, each doing a solo number and joining in a picturesque Apache dance and also an exhibition Charleston. Iced punch offered refreshment to the guests.

It is expected that a large delegation of local Scots will journey to Pasadena, Saturday, January 30, to attend the conferring of the charter for Pasadena Pyramid No. 44. Pharaoh Ray Baker and many other notables will be present. There will be a street parade by the uniformed bodies and the ceremonies will take place at the Shakespeare clubhouse, 320 South Los Robles street.

Many are also planning to attend the big dance which is being put on by the Fullerton Pyramid, Friday evening, January 29, at Scots hall, Spadra and Commonwealth avenues.

Styles of Yester-year Predominate at Gay Y. L. I. Party

A veritable picture from an old Godey's Lady's Book was presented Tuesday evening at the "Behind the Times" party given by Capistrano Institute, No. 104, Y. L. I., at Knights of Columbus hall in honor of the fourth birthday of the institute. While much merriment was caused as the members arrived in their ancient costumes, a great deal of interest was manifested in the dresses, many of which were of historic and sentimental value.

Mrs. M. J. Newberry was attired in one of Madame Modjeska's dresses, the property of the Yoch family; Miss Zola Powelson wore the wedding dress of her mother, fashioned with a tight little basque. Mrs. Olive Lopez wore a lovely silk marquisette, made by a famous southern modiste and worn a quarter of a century ago at the inaugural ball of the Houston, Tex. senate, and special affairs in the Texas capitol. Mrs. J. P. Murphy was a typical Irish jiddy and there were a number of old time shirt waists, long skirts and belts. Miss Clara Blesener and Miss Helena Lieberman wearing them with special grace, and Mrs. Frank B. Smith was a typical beauty of the olden time with her black silk dress made in England and her perky white hat turned up on the side and adorned with red roses. Miss Lillie Sutherland wore a beautiful English gown and furnished a waist for Mrs. Christine Gorman, fashioned of the marvelous silks of half a century ago.

The feature of the evening was a wedding, which brought to light many articles of men's wear of ancient lineage worn by the groom, Mrs. Stella Engelman, whose bride, Mrs. Harry Gaspar, wore a majestic one-piece black gown of a long-forgotten vintage. As their attendants, Miss Helen Klatt in gray business suit and with a groomsmen's boutonniere of red geraniums and Miss Casselman in "correct" bridesmaid's toilette, were highly diverting. Miss Ada Markel with her frock coat and chimney pot hat made an excellent minister and Mrs. Clyde Ashen was an appealing father, while Mrs. W. J. Schonberg, with her lace trimmed pantalettes peeping below her dress, and Mrs. J. W. Markel with her abbreviated skirts and expansive hair ribbons, made lovely flower girls. Miss Anna O'Donnell, who seemed to have lost several teeth, presided at the piano.

Following old-time songs and conundrums, a supper of chicken patties, coffee and birthday cake, all of which never go out of style, were served by the committee. The huge cake was beautifully decorated in blue and white, the colors of the order.

Miss Ada Markel was elected secretary to take the place of Miss Margaret Halliday, who is leaving the city. The box social to be given Thursday, February 4, in conjunction with the Knights of Columbus, was announced.

S. A. Woman's Club

With plans all completed for their annual birthday program, members of Santa Ana Woman's club are awaiting with keen interest the luncheon event at St. Ann's Inn next Tuesday. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock, and interesting and profitable details promise one of the prettiest affairs of the club's usual formal opening to be followed by piano numbers by Miss Lenore Tompkins who will also act as accompanist for the soloist, Miss Louise Montgomery. Both artists are favorites of the club and are always most generous with their individual talents, which are marked.

The address of the day will be presented by Mrs. Herbert M. Sanamis whose theme will be "Americanization" and who is also a general favorite with the club members. Readings and other entertainment features will complete a most intriguing program, but will not conclude the day, for it has been suggested that club members bring their needlework and remain in the pleasant lobby of the Inn for an hour's friendly chat in the blaze of the great fire.

The pleasant day may be shared with guests, but members must make all luncheon reservations prior to Saturday, by calling Mrs. William Whitehead, 674-R.

Wedding Breakfast Is Served at St. Ann's For Anaheim Pair

Wedded yesterday morning in Anaheim at St. Boniface Catholic church, Miss Adele Vanderbeke and Gustave Callens followed their 9 o'clock nuptial ceremony with a wedding breakfast of unusually beautiful appointments in this city at St. Ann's Inn where forty guests were entertained in the private dining room at a 12 o'clock breakfast.

The bridal ceremony was a most impressive one with a delightful musical program to add interest. Miss Dolan was at the organ and appropriate songs were rendered by Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. Wilson.

The nuptial rites were conducted by the Rev. Father Brown, rector of St. Boniface. Miss Vanderbeke wore a handsome gown of heavy crepe satin, girdled with pearls and veiled by the long folds of tulle, which fell from a wreath of orange blossoms encircling her hair. Her flowers were creamy bride roses with maidenhair fern and showers of lilies of the valley.

Adding interest to the wedding was the fact that the bride's sister, (formerly Miss Alice Vanderbeke) was wedded several years ago to the groom's brother, A. J. Callens, and attended her sister as groomsmatron. Mrs. Callens was honored in rosewood crepe satin with gold lace. Her taupe velvet hat was trimmed with graceful plumes in rosewood shading to taupe and her flowers were sweet peas in harmonious tints arranged as a corsage. The third of the trio of Callens brothers, Joseph Callens, served the bridegroom as best man.

At the elaborate breakfast served at the Inn, all details of decoration and menu were left to the host, manager, Robert L. Bishy. The table, arranged in U shape, was brilliant with yellow tapers, each adorned with a fluffy tulle bow and nestled in green smilax, offering a spring-like harmony of yellow and green. Baskets of yellow daisies were used at intervals and in the center of the room was a huge mound of daisies and greenery above which butterflies hovered. Placed before the seats of honor reserved for Mr. Callens and his bride, was a towering wedding cake, one of the most elaborate ever shown here, and surmounted by tiny bride and groom in the conventional garments of the bridal ceremony. The cake was cut by the bride at the conclusion of the meal and served with delectable ices frozen in Cupid, wedding bell, slipper and other forms appropriate to the occasion.

During the afternoon the happy pair departed on a motor honeymoon and upon their return will be at home to their friends at the Irvine ranch where the Callens brothers have proven highly successful as orchardists and ranchers.

Fullerton Ditch Case Injunction Denied by Judge

A temporary injunction, sought by H. J. Burdof and S. W. Miller, against the city of Fullerton, in connection with the maintenance of drainage ditches along Harvard, Ash and other streets was denied by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams late yesterday at the close of a two-day hearing.

The court held that the plaintiffs had not shown sufficient proof of immediate irreparable injury from the ditches.

Two actions for damages and for permanent injunction remain to be heard at a later date. Burdof asks $3000 and Miller $2000 damages.

The dancing masters of Des Moines are trying out new rules in the hope of eliminating some of the dangerous and otherwise objectionable features of the Charleston. Radical changes are made in the kicking rules, for instance, but we don't believe that will affect the game except in that department. The forward pass should be legalized, also, and restrictions put on high tackling. Penalties should be made more severe for offside, and the number of antagonists on the field should be limited to eleven on a side.

Father Officiates at Wedding of His Son in Sausalito

Of much interest to Santa Ana friends, was the announcement of the wedding in Sausalito on January 22, of Cyril Alfred Collins formerly of this city, and Miss Marie Madison, a charming Sausalito girl.

The Presbyterian church of the bay city, was garlanded in spring-time colors of yellow and green, for the impressive ceremony, acacia blossoms combined with ferns and feathery greenery heightening the charming effect. A floral arch was formed at the altar and the bridal pair stood beneath a wedding bell of golden acacia.

The wedding party entered to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Miss Henrietta Watkins who was accompanist for the brief recital preceding the ceremony. "The Rav," Rolfe Clay La Porte was soloist and gave two of his own compositions, "A Trail" and "The Waves of Love."

Miss Madison entered on the arm of W. H. C. Phillips and was given in marriage by Mrs. Fraser, an old friend of the Collins family. She chose as her bridal gown, a powder blue georgette and wore a silver wreath entwined in her hair. Her flowers were an arm cluster of freesias and orange blossoms. Miss Anna Nelson as honor maid, wore pink georgette and carried pink carnations. Albert Teather assisted Mr. Collins as best man.

The Rev. J. L. Collins of 921 Gardfield street, this city, father of the groom, read the impressive ceremony which united his son and the girl of his choice, and was assisted by the Rev. Charles Heffenden and the Rev. Mr. LaPorte. The ceremony was followed by an elaborate wedding supper served at the Teather home.

Mr. Collins, a graduate of the University of Washington, is now in the engineering department of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. He was formerly connected with his father in the nursery at Fourteenth and Main streets, this city, and has hosts of friends among the young people here who will be interested in greeting his bride when they visit in Santa Ana.

The young couple will establish their home in Sausalito, having already taken an attractive place at Third and Richardson streets, where the wealth of handsome presents showered on them will find admirable setting.

PRISONER ON TRAIN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

M. B. Chandler, convicted in superior court here several days ago and sentenced to San Quentin prison, narrowly escaped serious injury Tuesday night, while being taken to prison, when a huge piece of concrete was thrown through a window of the train, according to Deputy Sheriff Joe Scott, who returned last night, from San Quentin, where he accompanied Chandler.

The incident occurred near Van Nuys, according to Scott. The train was stopped and a thorough investigation made, but no one was found.

Authorities said they were under the impression that some boy threw the concrete block. Chandler was convicted and sentenced on a charge of passing fictitious checks. He was sentenced to from one to 14 years in San Quentin.

Madame Elaine, Beauty Specialist, Gives Remarkable Secrets used by French Women to Keep Young, Beautiful and Slender.

HOW TO GET A CLEAR COMPLEXION—
Every morning drink a glass of hot water, every evening take one or two pellets of Veribates French Laxative. It will clear your system from all impurities and your complexion will soon respond. Keep away from red meats it is deadly for the complexion—eat vegetables and salads.

HOW TO SAFELY LOSE 4 OR 5 POUNDS A WEEK—

Here is a formula of a well-known French Scientist which now has been put up into a small convenient tablet. It is called S.A.N. GRI-NA, and nearly every French woman keeps a box of these tablets handy because it takes off fat quickly and safely. It seldom reduces one of less than 4 or 5 pounds a week. I personally know of women who have lost as much as 30, 40 or 50 pounds of flabby, ugly FAT with S.A.N. GRI-NA. I used it myself and lost over 20 pounds—three months because it is absolutely harmless and the most efficacious reducer I know of. Dr. Rudolph, former health commissioner, makes a thorough investigation of it and advises it to FAT people as a safe and harmless way to get slender. It is sold at all good drug stores, with money back guarantee, so you might try it and if you are not pleased it will not cost you a penny and it can't hurt you.

HOW TO GET RID OF DISAGREEABLE BODY ODORS AND PERSPIRATION—

Another French product extensively used by beautiful Parisiennes has lately been introduced in America under the name of BON ODOUR. It does away with unpleasant body odors and it is indispensable for women at certain times. It is easy to use—comes in a soft delightful powder. All one needs to do is to shake it under arm-pits, feet, etc. I know of several women who now use this remarkable product instead of all other deodorants, because it is so pleasant and easy. It can be had, I think from any good drug or department store.

HOW TO KEEP SLENDER AND AT THE SAME TIME RELIEVE STOMACH TROUBLES AND INDIGESTION—

If you don't like to take anything internally there is now a new discovery to make

FAT people thin. Science says that today you can chew yourself into slenderness. In our days of progress nothing is surprising but can you imagine how pleasant to only have to chew a refreshing Gum and at the same time know that your figure is getting more and more SYLPH-LIKE? In New York it is the latest fad and all those beautiful chorus girls, actresses and models that everyone admires are chewing SYLPH and say that they can eat all they want and still keep slender. A couple of weeks ago a man wrote in to me that he had relieved himself entirely from indigestion from which he had suffered for years, by simply chewing two pieces of SYLPH Gum a day. Be sure you get SYLPH as I have been told there are two or three imitations on the market. All reliable druggists carry SYLPH, but if you cannot get it write direct to the manufacturer, 9 West 60th Street, New York City. It sells for 30 cents a box.

HOW TO REMOVE WRINKLES—

Here is an interesting story—Some time ago I advised Mrs. A. S. F. to remove her double chin with DR. FOLTS SOAP, which is the only external way I ever recommend for double chin, big legs, big arms, etc. She wrote me and told me that not only had she entirely removed her double chin but that she had used it on her face and neck. That to remove wrinkles nothing equalled DR. FOLTS SOAP. Since then I advised it to several women who have obtained extraordinary results in giving their face a smooth, healthy look. Of course, DR. FOLTS SOAP is especially recommended to slenderize arms—less ankles, but from what I have heard it is also wonderful to remove wrinkles—Try it! A cake only costs 50 cents. All you need to do is make a good lather with this soap, apply where you want to remove fat or wrinkles then wash off with cold water.

Anyone wishing for Beauty Advice can write to Madame Elaine (Dept. 161) Broadway, New York City, and she will be glad to mail free literature on any of the products she recommends, which can be purchased from leading drug or dept. stores.

BEWHISKERED GENTLEMEN ARE PIONEER BEEKEEPERS

The men with the whiskers are four of Southern California's veteran beekeepers. Three of them are from Orange county and one, at the right, is claimed to be the oldest beekeeper in the state. From left to right—C. Dishman, 77 years old, Fullerton, raised bees 30 years; D. Seligman, 77, Fullerton, raised bees 30 years; T. O. Andrews, 80, Corona, 32 years in the bee business, and J. E. Pleasants, 86, of Orange, who has raised bees for 53 years.

BEE LINES

Dr. James I. Hambleton, who recently was appointed chief of the bee department of the federal department of agriculture, exhibited a device by which the grading of honey may be standardized. A chemist in Johns Hopkins university invented the device for the grading of varnish. Department of agriculture bee experts decided the scheme might be used to grade honey. Hambleton explained that the grader had been a complete success.

Hambleton neglected to explain that he is a man without a vote. He resides in the District of Columbia, a fact which puts him in the class of the man without a country, as far as voting on presidents is concerned.

Kenneth Hawkins, one of the speakers, is a "reformed" newspaper man. The only reason he quit the newspaper game, he said, was because he could make more money raising bees. Occasionally he holds a "big story" near his town. He formerly was managing editor of the Pensacola, Fla., Journal.

"California has nothing to fear from Florida," Hawkins said. "Florida always will be the winter resort for the rich New York people because it is only 35 hours distant."

Honey is becoming more and more popular with baby specialists as a substitute for sugar, it was said. The honey is said to contain several beneficial ingredients not contained in sugar.

The lowly sage brush has found a defender in the keepers of the bees. Plant a colony near a sea of sage and a fine grade of honey is secured. Bees won't do so good in a city because of the lack of flowers and feeding grounds.

The beekeepers want the newspapers to carry more news about honey on the market page. One speaker said that all the latest developments in other markets are carried daily but there is never a mention made of the honey market. They crave attention and it was indicated that the bee division of the agriculture department might try to do something about it.

It couldn't be done. Experts on the keeping of the bees declared that "Lightnin' Bill" Jones, hero of Frank Bacon's "Lightnin'", couldn't drive a swarm of bees across the plains without losing a single bee.

In many respects, the bee is like the human being, a speaker explained. The older he grows the more useless he becomes. He is self, says that the foregoing statement is true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

The beekeepers think they have a grievance against the citrus growers. It is very disconcerting, they claim, to have a citrus grower bathe his trees with a deadly spray and to have a large number of bees die from contact with the tree. They want the citrus growers to use sprays that won't kill bees.

Hair bracelets and hair rings, once so popular, are returning to favor now that women, after being shingled, have so much hair to spare.

Sacramento Man Re-elected President of State Association

A speech on the subject, "A Problem and a Solution," by R. E. Fairchild, prominent apiarist, of Redlands, and a general discussion of the beekeeping business, led by W. W. Culver, of San Diego, brought the first annual Southern California beekeepers' short course to a close today.

The short course opened Monday. The annual banquet of the California State Beekeepers' association was held last night at St. Ann's Inn.

Officers of the state association were elected yesterday afternoon, at the session held in the Frances Willard junior high school auditorium. C. Hauser, of Sacramento, was re-elected president; Roy K. Bishop, of Orange, was elected vice president, and G. H. Vansell, connected with the extension division of the state university, was re-elected secretary.

A resolution, protesting against the proposal for federal control of the money industry, was adopted, the delegates being of the opinion that the California statutes provide ample law under which to regulate the business.

The program yesterday included an address by Dr. James I. Hambleton, chief of the apiary division of the U. S. department of agriculture, on the subject, "A National Program for Beekeepers." Henry Perkins, of Los Angeles, discussed the subject, "Bee Inspection Through the County Horticultural Commissioner's Office." N. E. Miller, of Provo, Utah, had, as his topic, "Migratory Beekeeping."

Jay Smith, the "queen bee king" of Vincennes, Ind., spoke, during the afternoon meeting, on "Producing American Strain of Italian Bees." Prof. E. R. DeGong, of the University of California, spoke regarding the food value of honey.

The Santa Ana short course was regarded by many of the delegates as the most successful bee meeting ever held in Southern California.

According to reports, he had not reached his destination late last night. Officers here found no trace of the man.

Charged with contributing to the delinquency of four children, Mrs. W. J. Olds, 43, and C. L. Wheatland, 44, arrested Tuesday by city officers, at 925 French street, were yesterday arraigned before Justice Kenneth Morrison and their examining trial set for February 2, 10 a. m. Bail was fixed at $2500 in each case, but neither, so far, has been able to obtain the money. They are in the Orange county jail.

A thief, using a pass key, entered the room of J. T. Temple, in the Glenn hotel, yesterday morning, and stole a new pair of shoes, valued at $8.50, a shirt, valued at $2.50, and a tie, according to a report filed last night with the police. Officers investigated early today but no trace of the thief has been found, it was said.

GROCERY FIRM PURCHASED BY SMART, FINAL

The Smart and Final company, wholesale grocery firm, operating throughout Southern California, has purchased the business of the Nau-murray company, wholesale grocers, in San Bernardino, it was announced here today by J. S. Smart, president of Smart and Final company. The local company will take charge of the San Bernardino business February 1.

It was pointed out here today that addition of the San Bernardino plant places the Santa Ana-Wilmington concern among the largest wholesale grocers in the United States, the consolidation concerns representing a capital upwards of $1,000,000 and doing a volume of business in excess of $6,000,000 annually.

Smart and Final are pioneers in the wholesale grocery field in Southern California, outside of Los Angeles and San Diego.

"Prior to our advent, retail grocers' territory outside of Los Angeles and San Diego, had to buy in these cities or in more distant markets and had to pay transportation charges on every dollar's worth of goods hauled," Smart said.

"We inaugurated free store-door delivery service more than 12 years ago and now every dealer in this territory who desires it can have his merchandise delivered at his door, without charge of transportation."

Some people think that the milkman makes milk, and some think that the furniture store makes furniture, but they are wrong in both cases, because milk comes from a cow, and upholstered furniture is made by mechanics in a factory equipped for that purpose. There is such a factory in Santa Ana. We invite you to come and see it made. We sell furniture direct from factory to you. If your furniture is beginning to show wear, let us give you our estimate on recovering.

When Do You Renew Your Mortgage?

This question is a source of anxiety to the man who owes a flat loan, for he knows that he may not be able to renew his loan with the present holder of the mortgage and may have to look elsewhere to find the money. Our borrowers are not troubled with this responsibility, as their papers are written for the full period of the loan and papers expire only when the loan is matured. Not only is this item a point of satisfaction, but it is a considerable saving of money. With our loans you know just how many payments are required of you, and just how much you will have to pay each month. Installments include a principal payment and interest on the balance, and we offer you the choice of several different monthly payments which will pay off your loan in a shorter time if you desire. See us when your papers need renewing. We have been making installment loans for 33 years.

STUDENT TRAIT RECORDS ADOPTED BY S. A. SCHOOL

Designed to assist teachers in diagnosing character traits of pupils is the so-called Pasadena plan of individual records, which is now being tried out in the Julia Lathrop junior high school, according to H. G. Nelson, principal of the school.

Traits recorded on a specially prepared individual record card are accuracy, co-operation, courtesy, industry, initiative, leadership, reliability, vitality and school.

Explaining the purpose of this system, Principal Nelson said that a teacher can impart much of her instruction in the school subjects to properly graded groups, but to train in character she must be conscious of each child as to personality, a complex of habits, attitudes and desires all his own. She must know how he thinks, what he wants, what influences dominate him and the effects they have on him. She must understand him, by being able to put herself in his place.

Outcome Of Study
Such understanding, the school principal continued, is the outcome of experience and much study. The average instructor, carrying a full teacher's load, including the grading of papers, is very busy doing the "next thing," as it crowds upon her throughout the day, and unless basic records are available for her to use on her study of the individual, she may arrive at wrong conclusions.

The cards provide for the recording of all the data the school officials can secure about a pupil's character traits, distributed over the following traits with their positive and negative manifestations:

Accuracy, high—standard—expresses idea accurately, accomplishes exact work, evaluates new ideas; low—standard—expresses ideas inaccurately, does inexact work, thinks indiscriminately.

Co-operation, high—participation in worthy group activities, seems happy in team work, subordination of self to group; low—avoids group activities, seems unhappy in team work, does not subordinate self.

Courtesy, high—polite to associates, shows thoughtful kindness, gentle, respects authority; low—impolite to others, selfish or unkind in acts, arrogant, disrespectful.

Industry, high—works regular and on time, habitually completes work, makes judicious use of time; low—works sporadically, seldom completes work, uses time injudiciously.

Initiative, high—Overcomes difficulties, shows intellectual curiosity, initiates undertakings; low—succumbs to difficulties, shows little curiosity, seldom starts anything.

Leadership, high—wins support for his cause, plans for and directs others, arouses enthusiasm in group; low—fails to secure support, prefers plans made by others, lessens enthusiasm in group.

Reliability, high—fulfills promises and obligations, admits error when shown wrong, is honest in word and deed; low—neglects promises and obligations, does not admit error when wrong, is undependable on word and deed.

Vitality, high—active in vigorous activities, exhibits endurance in continued effort, possesses forceful personality; low—avoids vigorous activities, exhibits little endurance, possesses physically weak personality.

STUDENT TRAIT RECORDS ADOPTED BY S. A. SCHOOL

An enthusiastic response to the announcement of a series of church training nights in the First Methodist church was apparent last night, when hundreds of persons attended the classes in Christian education and religious training.

The most popular classes were those taught by Miss Jennie Lasby, on "International Relations," and Prof. Louis Jones, of Whittier college, on the "Life of Jesus." The attendance at these classes taxed the capacity of the respective classrooms. The classes on specialized teachers' training work were well attended, and many Sunday school teachers availed themselves of the opportunity to learn the latest methods in Sunday school teaching.

Dr. Frank Luce gave an interesting address on "The Vital Elements of Modern Evangelism." In his address, he laid the foundation for nine other addresses that he will give on consecutive Wednesday nights.

UNION JUNIOR COLLEGE PLAN IS SANCTIONED

Directors of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, in session this afternoon, indorsed plans for creation, in the county, of one junior college, following discussion of the subject by J. A. Cranston, superintendent of city schools, in which the educator declared that there would be a meeting, next Wednesday, of high school boards for consideration of the subject.

Cranston pointed out that, in order to create the district, it would be necessary to secure the signatures of two-thirds of the registered voters in each school district, a feature that will require considerable work and time on the part of a large group of persons in each district.

Directors pledged the support of the chamber in circulation of petitions and in any other manner in which it may be of service.

W. N. Vandermast and Stanley Clem were appointed a committee to name a committee of five to work in conjunction with a similar committee from the junior division, to develop concrete plans for the proposed grotesque parade, which has been under consideration by the junior division as an annual event. The committee will submit plans to the directors, along with the approximate cost of producing the parade, with a recommendation as to the dates on which it should be held.

It is the opinion of those advocating the parade that it can be made an annual feature that will attract hundreds of visitors to the city on the dates of its presentation.

Preparations of a booth for the chamber of commerce at the annual automobile show, to be held February 12-20, under the auspices of the Orange County Automobile Trade association, was detailed to the junior division. The association will give the exhibit space free.

A resolution was adopted, opposing plans of the government for making a toll charge for entrance to Big Basin, one of the popular resorts in the big redwood tree section, near Santa Cruz.

George Raymer, of Fullerton, recently appointed secretary of the Santa Ana chamber, was present, and outlined, briefly, some of the plans of work he has in contemplation for the organization when he becomes active in his position. He intimated today that he probably would take up his duties, Monday, February 11.

CITY'S WATER SUPPLY GIVEN OFFICIAL O. K.

Santa Ana's municipal water has a clean bill of health and its percentage of purity is above the average of that supplied to municipalities, it was declared here today by Dr. C. H. Halliday, state epidemiologist, who was a guest at St. Ann's Inn.

Dr. Halliday will be remembered as a representative of the state health board who was here for three months in the early part of 1923, when Santa Ana had a severe epidemic that resulted from contamination of the municipal water supply.

"The state board of health makes regular tests of the water here and gives it a clean bill of health," the epidemiologist said.

"The liquid is as pure as the average distributed in municipalities," he added. He commended the county health organization, declaring it to be one of the best in the state.

Dr. Halliday stopped in Santa Ana while enroute to the Imperial valley, where he will direct a fight against trachoma, which, it is said, has almost reached the epidemic stage in some communities in the valley.

Calceico will be the scene of his first operations. He said that reports to the state health board indicated that the disease was spreading there, 18 cases of acute trachoma having been reported in the school in that city. Mexican children and adults are the principal victims.

Sitting that trachoma is similar to pink-eye, the state expert said the disease is spreading through the state.

"The disease is difficult of differential diagnosis," Dr. Halliday said, when interrogated as to the cause of the disease.

Here's a Real Prescription for the Torturing Pains of Neuritis

When you've tried everything you can think of and nothing seems to even relieve those piercing pains, just go to some good druggist and get a bottle of Allenburh Special Formula No. 2. Be sure you get No. 2 which comes in capsule form, for the liquid form is a special preparation for Rheumatism only.

Take these little dark green capsules as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished, those persistent nerve-racking pains that have caused you many sleepless nights. A few more doses and the pains have left you forever.

While this particular formula was compounded for the purpose of conquering painful, gouty conditions and what is known as Rheumatoid Arthritis—a knotty, painful swelling of the joints—it has proven wonderfully successful in all forms of Neuritis and Sciatic Nerve Pains.

You needn't be afraid of its containing dope of any kind—it doesn't. Such things are only makeshifts and can only at the best give temporary relief.

Be sure you've got Neuritis and then get Allenburh Special Formula No. 2. C. S. Kelley can supply you.

2LO Reception in Santa Ana CHALLENGED!

The undersigned claims that no European station has been received here. So it is up to those who claim such "out of reason" reception to prove it, or else admit that they did not hear it.

I challenge said reception as stated in yesterday's Register. If party will prove he received 2LO, London, on his set by undeniable verification, I will donate to him $50.00. I also make this offer in addition. Bring that wonderful set up to my house any night, and I'll bring my set to his place any night, and we will on the third night put both sets in a public hall any place in Santa Ana, and we will advertise the fact. And I will give to said owner of machine a ten dollar bill for every station he brings in that we cannot bring in—if he will give me $5.00 for every station we bring in that he can't even touch.

This challenge is bonafide, and you can start tonight.

"I'll tell you why they wouldn't insure you—"

"You allowed constipation to become chronic—until finally it resulted in organic disease."

"People don't realize how insidious constipation is. Its first effects are hardly more than annoyances—headaches, loss of appetite, sleeplessness and the like. But in time, as the body is subjected to continued intestinal poisoning, it may lead to high blood pressure, rheumatism, diabetes or even Bright's disease."

"Stop constipation if you wish to live long. Take a little Nujol every day—that will keep you regular."

Nujol relieves constipation in Nature's way

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, gentle and natural in its action.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency—temporary or chronic—in the supply of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular elimination without overtaxing the intestinal muscles.

Nujol can be taken for any length of time without ill effects. To insure internal cleanliness, it should be taken regularly in accordance with the directions on each bottle. Unlike laxatives, it does not form a habit and can be discontinued at any time.

Ask your druggist for Nujol today and begin to enjoy the perfect health that is possible only when elimination is normal and regular.

REHEARSALS OF P.-T. A. MUSIC COMEDY START

Rehearsals for "The Love Garden," musical comedy, to be presented here under the auspices of the Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, as a benefit for supervised playground activities in Santa Ana, have started.

The composer-director, Robert P. Skilling, believes he has a strong cast, which should make the show a success.

Irving Bacon, dramatic critic of the Newark Star, in his criticism, called the show "indiscreetly beautiful."

Tuesday afternoon, 176 pretty little misses met in the high school auditorium for their first rehearsal. They will take part in one scene, "the ballet of the flowers and butterflies."

Special scenic and lighting effects will be employed for the various scenes.

The adult chorus groups and principals have rehearsed the "finale" of the show. The stage was filled with singers, many of whom will be in special dancing groups.

Rehearsals have been called as follows:

Thursday—The flower girls, 3 p. m.; the ballet, 4 p. m.; spring mads, 7 p. m.; the tourists, 8 p. m.; all in the high school gymnasium.

Friday—The ballet, 8:30 p. m.; the principals, 7 p. m.; and the vanity girls, 9 p. m., all in the high school gymnasium.

Next Monday night, general rehearsal, for all adult groups and principals, will be held at 8 p. m. on the high school stage.

Singers, desiring to join the cast, are asked to come to the high school gymnasium Thursday night, women at 7 o'clock and gentlemen at 8.

Information regarding available parts may be obtained from the chaperon-organizers of the various groups who are as follows:

The Tourists, Mrs. Lillian Medbery, telephone 2351W; Spring Mads, Mrs. Harry Bracket, 343M; China girls, Mrs. Lois Lentz, 1752W; Flower girls, Mrs. H. B. Van Dien, 819; Spanish dancers, Mrs. Fay R. ## KIWANIS EFFORT TO MOLD PUBLIC OPINION IS URGED BY S. A. SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

War is on in every community between the forces that sustain and the forces that demoralize the cradle and citadels of civilization—the home, the church, the school and the government, according to declarations made by H. G. Nelson, principal of Frances Willard junior high school, at the meeting, yesterday, for the Santa Ana Kiwanis club.

"The enemies are ambushed in the news stands, the roadhouses, the dance halls, the places of amusement, the flask on the hip and 40 other places—there is a general smoke screen of civic and moral blindness, with a mounting crime-wave and a community letdown," the speaker commented.

Pointing out that one cannot get away from the conditions by moving from one community to another, the principal said that the fight is not with foreign countries, nor with imaginary foes from afar, but that it is a better citizenship fight.

The address by the educator was an incident of a program developed for celebration of the eleventh anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis International, and his declaration was made in the progress of a talk on "What Kiwanis Holds in the Future."

"If there ever was a time when leadership counts, it is now," Nelson said. "If ever there was a time when public opinion could be moulded in the form of sane, progressive thought, it is now."

"It lies within the power of this great virile, far-flung organization to direct an influence of immeasurable importance."

Stresses Kiwanis influence. After stressing the influence Kiwanis can wield in the line of bettering general community conditions and in correction of things that corrupt the body politic, the speaker said that "Kiwanis crystallizes community sentiment for municipal improvements."

Continuing, he said: "It cultivates public opinion for pure politics and promotes community co-operation in all good things. It develops leaders, urges harmony in business, honesty and integrity in all dealings and furnishes a forum for the discussion of all fair and interesting questions."

"Kiwanis is a representative influence for the advancement of public welfare in its many phases, for the stimulation of morals, charities, health, better citizenship, civic improvements and obedience to law and all the tenets of better living."

O. H. Hays, first president of the Santa Ana club, recited some of the history of the club here since its founding, in October, 1920. Re-counting that temporary organization was effected by a group of 27 men, he said that 22 of the original number still were members. They are L. B. Babbitt, J. P. Baumgartner, Neil Belsel, J. E. Gowen, Harry Garstang, W. D. Baker, Albert Hill, P. C. Blauer, Jabe Hill, L. R. Crawford, J. C. Horton, Sam Jernigan, D. N. Kelly, H. J. Lowe, E. T. Ma-teer, Arnold Peek, F. H. Taylor, C. E. Walker, M. B. Wellington, F. W. Wesselman, T. A. Winbigger, A. N. Zerman and Hays.

Reports on Conference. A. N. Zerman, trustee, made an interesting report on the highlights of the recent conference of trustees in Stockton. He pointed out some of the objects uppermost in the minds of leading Kiwanians, which are being expected by officers. He announced that California will make a bid for the 1928 convention of Kiwanis International. His report disclosed that officials of international have made observations that convince them California can support at least 60 more clubs, 83 being organized at this time. California is fourth in the number of clubs in a state.

A large birthday cake, made by W. D. Baker, a member, graced the table space in front of President V. Verne Whitson. It was decorated with 11 candles. Following exercise of a plan developed by C. E. Des-sery, the cake was awarded to L. R. Crawford and later was carved by Arnold Peek, with Crawford acting in an advisory capacity. A piece was served to each member present.

Identify Redding as Robert Scott.

SAN QUENTIN, Jan. 28.—"John Redding," prisoner in San Quentin penitentiary, has been identified as Robert Scott, wanted in Chicago for murder.

Scott was identified by Floyd C. Carr, who was held up by Scott and his brother, Russell, shortly after the slaying of Jacob Maurer, in his drug store.

Carr picked Scott out of a group of 20 prisoners and declared there was no possible mistake in his identification.

Movement will be rushed to extradite Scott to Chicago to answer for the murder, Chicago officers here announced.

Death Sentence Of Boy Commuted.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 28.—The death sentence of William C. Cavalier, 15-year-old slayer, of Pottsville, Pa., has been commuted to life imprisonment by the Pennsylvania state parole board.

Cavalier was to go to his death at Rockview penitentiary, Bellefonte, Pa., February 1, for the murder of his grandmother at their home on Sept. 6, 1924, to obtain a small sum of money.

At 80 years of age, J. T. Richards is swimming instructor at the municipal natatorium in the city of Tacoma.

BURGLAR GETS $32 IN S. A. RESIDENCE

After cutting a screen and jimmying a back door at the home of E. J. Nickel, 111 East Tenth street, about 8:30 last night, when the family was absent, a burglar entered the house and stole $32 in cash, according to a report filed with the police this morning.

The burglary was discovered when members of the family returned home.

Police were today examining a number of footprints found at the rear of the house.

The burglar overlooked many things of value in the house, leading police to believe that he was interested only in money or possibly valuables that could not be traced by their description.

IMPROVEMENT FIRM PLANS ERECTION OF 50 DWELLINGS

Estes Property to Be Covered with Stucco Homes At End of Year

STORE SCHEDULED FOR CORNER SITE

Investment of Concern Aggregates $250,000; Two Houses Under Way

Representing an investment of approximately $250,000, the Santa Ana Improvement company will erect a total of 50 residences this year in the John Estes tract at the corner of Bristol and Washington streets, it was announced today by W. Floyd Croddy, president of the firm.

Two houses are now under construction and it is the intention of the company to erect at least four each month, according to Croddy. The homes will all be of stucco construction and each will occupy a lot 50x120 feet in size. Spanish style architecture will be utilized.

Coincident with the announcement of the big home building campaign, Croddy stated that a store structure would be started at once on the southwest corner of Bristol and Washington streets. The building will be designed for a grocery and meat market.

A unique plan, whereby the widow of a home purchaser secures a clear title to the property, has been inaugurated by the company. Briefly, the purchaser of a home agrees to pay one per cent interest extra each year. If he dies before the home is paid for, the widow is given title without further payment.

The Santa Ana Improvement company built a total of 40 homes in this city during 1925, according to Croddy. During the past three years, the firm has sold 133 residences here.

"The houses will be of five and six rooms and will be thoroughly modern in every way," said Croddy. "The Estes tract comprises 11 acres and by the end of the year, we expect to have the property completely covered with homes of the better class."

MENTAL HARD TIMES

A story is going the rounds of a man who had a fish tank divided into two compartments by a glass partition. In one side he put a lively bass; in the other, a number of minnows. Every time a minnow came up to the glass partition the bass made a strike. Then, with a bruised head, the bass got discouraged and waited patiently each day for the food which was dropped in from above. The man took out the partition. The minnows swam about the bass and were not touched. The bass was thoroughly sold on the idea that business was bad.

Take another look at the glass partition. It isn't there.

STRUCTURE IN TUSTIN WILL COST $20,000

Construction work on a $20,000 business block was started in Tustin this week for the Tustin estate. The site is the southeast corner of Main and D streets, opposite the new Knights of Pythias building.

E. L. Kiser is in charge of the work. The structure will be one story in height for the present, but will have a foundation capable of carrying an additional story. Five store rooms will be included in the new structure. Three of the rooms will face on Main street and two on the state highway.

Brick construction will be used. The erection of the business building on the corner of Main and D streets is the first step in a construction program planned by the Tustin estate, it is said.

The development program for the Tustin estate includes the remodeling of a number of other buildings owned by the estate and the building of several other new ones. It is reported that the large orange grove situated back of the new building is to be subdivided and built up at once.

Reports are also current to the effect that the old store building which occupies the southwest corner of Main and D streets is to be torn down in the near future and a new building erected. If this improvement takes place, the corner will present an up-to-date appearance, as the First National Bank building, which occupies the other corner, has recently been remodeled.

L. B. MAN PLANS HOME BUILDING CAMPAIGN HERE

Frank Newsome, building contractor of Long Beach, has started an extensive building campaign in Santa Ana. He is at present constructing two modern bungalows on South Broadway in the South Park Homesite tract. A lot selling campaign was recently started in this tract and the Harbor Boulevard Park, the tract adjoining on the south, by E. G. Copeland, well known Southland subdivider.

Mr. Newsome, who is one of the best known contractors in Long Beach, is firmly sold on the future of Santa Ana. He predicts that the year 1926 will mark the beginning of a new and greater period of progress and growth. He contemplates a steady program of building to last throughout the summer. All his houses will be built on the property being sold by Copeland.

It was through the efforts of Copeland that Mr. Newsome became interested in a building campaign in Santa Ana.

State Fails to Sell Bond Issue

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 28.—For the third time, the state treasurer's office has failed to dispose of $7,133,000 worth of San Joaquin-Sacramento Drainage district bonds, secured by Sutter-Butte Bypass assessment No. 6. Because the lowest bid, amounting to $584,950 for $585,000 worth of the bonds, was below par, Charles G. Johnson, state treasurer, referred it to the state reclamation board for consideration. The offer for the securities, which bear interest at 5 1/2 per cent, was made by the Sutter Basin company.

REMODEL MAIN STREET HOUSE INTO OFFICES

Location of a group of physicians, surgeons and eye, ear and nose specialists in a 15-office building is the program responsible for remodeling work on the residence property of the late George C. Roy, on the southeast corner of Main and Sixth streets.

The property was sold a few days ago by Mrs. Roy to Dr. Lillian Mayo, of Los Angeles, at a reported consideration of $9000, all cash. Dr. G. W. Forrester, of Pomona, has become associated with Dr. Mayo in the office building project, and while in the city yesterday, said that more than $5000 would be spent in converting the residence into a series of offices.

An addition to the front will contain six offices and alterations will be made in the old building that will add nine more. Dr. Forrester said he would continue his practice in Pomona, but would be here occasionally to make his professional services available to those who may need them.

MANDELL TOO FAST; BEATS SPAR EASILY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Ill., speed merchant of the ring, put the name of Jack Spar in his credit column today.

Spar looked like a splendid opponent for Mandell until the end of the first round of their fight at Wilmington last night. The initial period was even but what followed was a maze of gloves in spar's face. Mandell took the second, third and fourth rounds without extending himself. He continued to glide along in the fifth and allowed Spar to take a shade of this stanza. In the sixth Mandell opened up for the first time of the bout and from then on he showed Spar almost as many blows as the latter has seen in his entire career.

SAWTELL RETAINS TITLE LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.—Ad Sawtell has the world's jiu jitsu championship locked up in his trunk today although he came very near losing it last night. Setzu Ota, Japanese artist of the sport, held Sawtell to a draw in three 20-minute rounds.

POSTAL RECEIPTS ARE ON INCREASE

Beach Man Shows Faith in Community by Building Three-Store Structure

Westminster, favorably located between Santa Ana and Long Beach, two fast growing cities of the Southland, is feeling and responding to the need of better homes, prosperous looking business houses, good paving and adequate street lighting.

Westminster, with an estimated population of around 1400 persons, has never, since it was colonized in 1871 by L. B. Weber, experienced such a marked growth as a survey of the last two years' activity reveals.

Houses Dot Landscape. Without the long drawn out hard-aiding accompanying such improvements, Westminster awoke one morning early in 1923 to find three additions starting under its very nose, the Wishart, Perrigo and McCoy tracts. Land was laid out for homesites, sidewalks were hurriedly laid and houses began to dot the landscape before the residents had fully taken in the situation.

In the Wishart tract, more than $80,000 was spent for homes, sidewalks and curbs, a water system, and a group of stucco business buildings.

There were 45 lots laid out in the W. B. McCoy tract, and all sold but two, representing an investment of $20,000 with a future expenditure of $10,000 for the building of homes, and $5000 for street work and installation of an automatic pressure water system.

In the Perrigo tract, the smaller of the three, the sale of lots brought $6000 from outside people, with $3000 invested in homes.

Install Gas, Electricity. With these new additions came gas and electricity for the entire community, hitherto undreamed of comforts for this vicinity. With perhaps one or two exceptions, homes which were built many years ago in the outlying districts, have all had electricity installed.

During 1925 Westminster has seen a marked growth in its business district.

At the corner of Cherry street and Westminster boulevard, A. Brenner, of Long Beach, has erected three brick store buildings, representing an investment of $5000. One of these stores was recently rented to Henry Johnson, of Long Beach, for a cafe.

An attractive home and store building was recently completed by A. C. Snow, Westminster architect and contractor, on Westminster boulevard, which cost him around $4600.

The Lawrence filling station, now known as Smith's filling station, and the store nearby, represents $2500 spent in Westminster.

Three homes, belonging to Chris Knox, S. A. Darling and Jane McGilvray, were built in 1925 at an approximate cost of $6000.

"Help! Help! Our ears are getting smaller every day. It is a real menace. Someone will soon be unable to hear the nice things his friends say; orders will have to be written; speech itself is imperiled."

Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, today issued an appeal for automobiles to transport Orange county men who wish to participate in the farm bureau-chamber of commerce excursion to the Colorado river, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday of next week.

The farm advisor said that 16 men already had made reservations on condition that they could get transportation. Stating that enclosed cars were preferred, but that open machines would be acceptable, Wahlberg said that in all probability those accepting the courtesy of a car owner would pay the oil and gas expenses of the trip.

The excursion is to be run under auspices of farm bureau and chambers of commerce of Southern California, and indications point to large delegations going from each county in the Southland, particularly from Orange, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside, San Diego and Imperial counties.

The caravan will leave the Elks clubhouse, San Bernardino, Sunday, at 6:30 a. m., and will arrive at Las Vegas, Nev., at 6:30 p. m., the same day. Monday, the party will go to Boulder canyon and on Tuesday night, members of the party will be guests at a banquet to be given by the chamber of commerce at Las Vegas. The return trip will be made on Wednesday.

Plaintiff Gets Judgment for
Just 50 Cents

Justice K. E. Morrison, who recently heard the suit brought by the Weber Show Case company, Los Angeles, against Floyd B. Smith, of Santa Ana, awarded the plaintiff judgment for 50 cents. The judgment asked had been $100.50. Today, the plaintiff had an appeal on file in superior court.

In answering the suit, Smith demanded $250 on a counter claim, alleging that the show case company had removed a show case from his establishment.

His claim was not allowed and the court lopped off all of the plaintiff's claim but a half dollar.

STATE SOLONS
DEMAND ACTION
ON WATER BILL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Sixteen state senators, representing 22 northern and central California counties, today telegraphed congress, demanding immediate action on the Swing-Johnson bill, in view of a "desperate situation" in Southern California.

Senator Roy F. Brown backed the move and was joined by the full senatorial delegation here, as well as a majority of other upper house members in this part of California.

"A critical condition has arisen in Southern California, due to lack of constructive action in the development of the Boulder dam and All-American canal projects," the telegram said. "Rich agricultural areas are facing ruin through failure to receive needed water supply; growing cities are facing shortage of water for domestic purposes."

"Sixty thousand Americans are exposed to constant danger of devastating flood," the telegram continues, "and the whole water conservation question of the state whose relief exists in being able to obtain water for Southern California from the Colorado river, thus abating demands upon northern water sources, is being held back and solution prevented."

"These conditions have tended to create a desperate condition in the regions affected, and—because of the water conservation question involved—all California is deeply sensible that an emergency exists which requires immediate relief and that this relief can come only through favorable action by congress on the Swing-Johnson bill."

BOULDER CANYON BILL DISCUSSED
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A final conference between Senator Hiram Johnson and Representative Swing, Republicans, California, and other interested parties was held today, in an effort to revise the Johnson-Swing Boulder canyon bill along lines suggested by Secretary of the Interior Work. The bill is expected to be completed this afternoon and submitted to Work. If he approves it, hearings will begin before the house irrigation committee tomorrow.

The annual picnic of former Fairmont county, Minnesota, residents, who now reside in Orange county, has been called for next Sunday, in Birch park, according to an announcement made today.

More than 170 persons, who have moved to Orange county from the Minnesota county during the last several years, attended last year's picnic, and an even larger crowd is expected to be present Sunday.

A chicken dinner will feature the gathering. It was said, and a program has been arranged. Games will be played during the afternoon.

The next meeting is to be held at the Talbert home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bushard and will be on February 19.

Mrs. Granville Bland spent Sunday as the guest of Mrs. Landrum at Greenville.

Stage and Screen

Margaret Livingston and Tom Mix in a scene from "The Yankee Señor," picture opening tomorrow at the West Coast-Walker theater.

WEST END THEATER.
If real merriment evidenced by continuous laughter, is a criterion to bank one's judgment upon, then "Madame Behave," the new comedy, with Julian Eltinge and Ann Pennington in the principal roles, which is showing at the West End theater is a decided success as screen entertainment par excellence.

Finely produced, splendidly directed and every character portrayed by a thorough screen artist, this farce comedy is all that the management of the West End has claimed for it, and then some.

The plot is strong and the amusing situations pile upon one another amazingly, so that smiles and laughs are the rule from start to finish. The chief funmakers, aside from the featured players, do excellent work. These include Lionel Belmore, David James, Tom Wilson, Jack Duffy, Stanhope Wheatcroft and Evelyn Francisco. You will miss something quite worth your while, if you fail to see this highly enjoyable comedy.

WEST COAST-WALKER
Tonight is the last opportunity to see one of the best pictures of the year—Eric von Stroheim's "The Merry Widow" with Mae Murray and John Gilbert. It closes a five-day engagement at the West Coast-Walker theater.

Friday and Saturday this popular theater will present five headline acts of vaudeville and Tom Mix in "The Yankee Señor."

Doyle and Day Sisters introduce harmony singing, ukuleles, jazz numbers, piano and dancing. If you want to see two of America's prettiest ladies, who are talented in singing and dancing numbers don't miss this offering.

It is seldom that one finds a single individual who possesses more versatility than Larry Dowd. Dowd has a refreshing repertoire of songs and stories and is one of the few comedians appearing in vaudeville who could successfully do a straight singing act.

Hip Raymond, famous New York Hippodrome clown, is a treat for the kiddies as well as the grown-ups. He and Mildred Mason appear in one of those sure fire acts that lift you right out of yourselves and makes you laugh despite your efforts to the contrary.

The Tiller Sisters in an act entitled "More Power to 'Em" do comedy songs and act. Their songs are especially written. They have made a reputation to their credit in the east and are now presenting their talent to the west.

James Wright and company present an act entitled "Camping." They do a little of everything including singing, talking, dancing, music, whistling and imitations. They come to Santa Ana heralded as one of the most entertaining acts on the stage today.

Tom Mix fans will have something new to discuss after witnessing "The Yankee Señor." This is the screen version of "The Conquistador" and many of the scenes are in technicolor.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

CONSTRUCTION OF BUILDINGS IS COMMENCED

Church hall was completed just west of the Presbyterian church, at an approximate cost of $5000. It is equipped with stoves, chairs, tables, etc. It has become the hub of community life in the vicinity, scarcely a week having gone by without one or more gatherings under its roof. The Happy Workers, a church society for whom the hall was built, has around 60 active members, who made and spent about $700 during the past year for a piano for the hall and various other church improvements.

The church itself, just before Christmas, bought and has almost paid for, a $1200 electrically pumped organ to take the place of the small organ used in the building for many years.

Garage Costs $12,000. The $12,000 Penhall garage, designed by A. C. Snow, will, when finished, be the last word in modern garage construction. Equipped with a 50-foot lathe, presses and all necessary mechanic's tools, it will hold its own with any shop of its kind in the county, it was asserted. The Penhall brothers make their home in Westminster.

At the C. J. Day store last year, a total of $70,000 was handled over the counters for merchandise. The W. J. Coxad general store reports $31,000 for the year.

Westminster is also proud of the fact that C. C. Murdy, contractor, is a resident here. Mr. Murdy is engaged in handling concrete material, having just completed several large state highway contracts. He still has a number to fulfill. He has crews of men at work at all times, with an average payroll of $8000 per month. Since entering this line of business, Mr. Murdy has accumulated more than $30,000 worth of equipment.

Sales Total $75,000. One of eight branches of the San Pedro Lumber company is located here. This branch last year sold 750,000 feet of lumber. Business transacted, in dollars, is conservatively estimated at $75,000.

The dry goods and jewelry establishment opened in July by Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Walker, filled a long felt need here. In the few months they have been here, they have put $5000 worth of business on their records.

Post Office Gains. Not only has Westminster enjoyed increased prosperity in business lines and building activities, but Postmaster George C. Abbott reports an increase in all branches at his office for the past year. The money order receipts for a quarter of 1925 compared with the same quarter of 1924 shows an increase of $1027.65. Stamp sales were increased 25 per cent. New lock boxes installed during the year increased 120 per cent. Since July 1, Westminster has twice-a-day mail service. The morning mail arrives at 9 o'clock and leaves at 9:45 o'clock. The evening mail arrives at 8:21 o'clock and leaves at 4:05 o'clock. Cancellation shows a substantial increase. Mr. Abbott has served as postmaster for the past 20 years, which he claims is a record for Orange county.

Milk Trucks Busy. The Penhall trucks pick up 3500 gallons of milk every day in this vicinity, while trucks from Long Beach haul a balance of about 2000 gallons per day, which shows Westminster is surrounded by good dairies. A good deal of milk is also sold on retail milk routes. At the Dean-Johnson ranch, around 100 cows are milked daily by milking machines.

Besides this industry, rabbits and chickens are raised extensively. E. M. Eder, just northeast of town, having 1500 chicks under his care. Beans and sugar beets are important crops with Westminster farmers. On one ranch here last year, $3000 was cleared on beans. More land is being put into beans this year than last.

Two Garages Busy. Westminster keeps two garages busy, the O. C. Hare garage and Frank Lessig garage, both of which are equipped with modern machine shop tools. There is also a blacksmith shop operated by E. A. Hare.

Although not directly in Westminster, Ed Cyr, who makes his home in Westminster, has built up a garage trade at Westminster boulevard, Seventeenth street and Huntington Beach boulevard.

A drug store, owned by C. M. Hagen, attends to the medicinal needs of Westminster.

A feed store, which buys in carload lots, thereby selling at reduced prices, is operated by Jack Hale. It is owned by Garden Grove men.

A barbecue restaurant and soft drink establishment does a good business. It is owned and conducted by Robert Cavanaugh.

In the way of real estate, deals aggregating $100,000 have been put through by the Larter & Hosack office within the past two months according to R. E. Larter.

225 Pupils Enrolled. Westminster has a good graded school, with seven teachers, and about 225 pupils regularly enrolled. The Spanish pupils are taught separately until they reach the higher grades, when the few who attend that long are put in with the other children. There is a local P-T-A. with a splendid membership. A bus carries the high school students to the high school at Huntington Beach.

There is a branch library with a book circulation averaging 550 books per month for the two afternoons each week it is open.

A large part of the population of Westminster is made up of families whose wage earners drive seven or more miles to their work daily.

Westminster's board of directors has a proposition under consideration for extending the pavement and putting in sidewalks and curbing of Westminster avenue, from the railroad to Golden West avenue.

In all probability, this venture will receive the approval of all concerned, and if so, work will be started within the next few months, after which street lights will be installed. The numbering of houses is also planned.

"KERNELS" BY THE COLONEL

The other day the mayor of this fair city, on a trade-in, obtained an automobile that bore an Arizona license. He parked his new possession on a downtown street and turned to his many duties.

(Stars denote lapse of time)

The mayor of this fair city returned to his car. On the steering gear he found a tag which read: "You are violating a city traffic ordinance. On account of being a non-resident, you are excused from appearing in police court this time, but we would appreciate a closer observation of our traffic rules in the future.—POLICE."

And yet, there are some folks who will declare that the Santa Ana police officers are not courteous.

CHORUS GIRLS DRIVE BIG BUTTER, EGG MEN TO SEA—Register headline. No news in that unless it really meant the ocean.

Every now and then we hear a great deal about smudging. How many people ever saw smudge pots in operation in a grove? Ask your neighbor. Twenty men were talking about it here the other day. Not a one had ever seen smudging and two of them were native sons and both over 35 years of age.

Smudging is like rain. We hear a lot about it, but seldom see it. The same applies to the well known hundred dollar bill.

Here are two communications received yesterday:

"What's the matter, lost your pep?—Gee, the stuff is terrible now.—MAY."

"Want to congratulate you on the change in the column. Am enjoying it more now than ever before.—JUNE."

The latter letter was not from a member of the city council or the police force, believe it or not.

For almost a half square along Third street, aside the city hall, red paint warns the public that the space must not be used for parking purposes—that it is reserved for police cars. The idea probably is to confuse burglars—to make them think that forty police cars will be after them once they enter a house.

But it's a dumb burglar that doesn't know that all the city has for pursuing purposes is a couple of old Dodges.

Well, anyway, we know one deputy sheriff who wants no more to do with soap for a long, long time.

Here's a sign that hangs on a post several miles north-west of Santa Ana. "FOR SALE—POLICE PUPPIES EGGS."

A barber in Council Bluffs has just made his name eligible for the hall of fame. He has cleared his shop of women customers and told them not to come back.

Things went well until the women came in droves. A girl would come in to get a shingle and bring five friends with her. While the barber was doing his stuff, the five would give advice. Consequently it made the barber sore, so he said: "Shoo, chickens."

That barber is a leader among men. Like Washington was the father of his country, that barber is the father to his sex. Taking a stand for men's rights is something that we have seen little of, lately.

Now that he has made this stand, may it be an example to others, and may a movement start immediately to keep women from overrunning the earth. Even the chorus girls have driven the big butter and egg men to sea.

Speaking of a lack of men's rights, a poor little married man was kicked off a street car the other day by a woman because he took a step toward a vacant seat.

Already on the hotel registers the "Mr and Mrs." has disappeared and in its place appears: "Mrs. So-and-So and husband."

P-T-A. TO OBSERVE ITS ANNIVERSARY

On February 4, the P-T-A. of the high school will celebrate the 23rd anniversary of the founding of the P-T-A. in United States. Incidentally the association also will be celebrating the 14th anniversary of the joining of the local branch of the high school P-T-A. with the fourth district.

At the party, which will be held in the Y hut, at the high school grounds, nine of the past presidents will be present, as well as Mrs. C. W. Burns, who was the direct cause of the forming of the high school branch.

The founding of this branch, how it was delayed because members of the W.C.T.U. performed all of the tasks later relegated to the P-T-A. and the obstacles that had to be overcome, will be told at the birthday party in February, to which a large attendance is requested, by Mrs. J. M. Burlew, who is the present president.

Form Speakers' Club In Anaheim

ANAHEIM, Jan. 28.—Ralph Smedley, secretary of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., assisted local "Y" workers Tuesday evening in perfecting the organization of a Toastmasters' club in this city.

J. Clark Chamberlain was elected president of the new organization at the organization meeting, which was held following a banquet in the Business and Professional Woman's clubhouse. Other officers named at this time were Judge Eldon W. Stark, vice president, and Earl Fulfer, secretary-treasurer.

Membership in the club, which is designed to assist backward public speakers to develop their public speaking abilities, is to be limited to 34 persons. It was decided. Twenty-four members have already been secured. Meetings are to be held every Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock.

The lungs of the average man contain about five quarts of air.

BRUFFETS TO OPEN REVIVAL SERVICE

Plans were being completed today for the opening of revival services in a large tent, now being erected at the corner of South Cypress and Bishop streets, by the Christian and Missionary Alliance, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Bruffett will have charge of the services. Mrs. Bruffett formerly was Miss Bessie Mae Randall, Santa Ana pastor, who has just returned from Arkansas and Texas, where she conducted numerous successful revivals.

At the opening service of the revival, which is scheduled for 7:30 tomorrow night, Mrs. Bruffett will give to her audience seven reasons why she married Mr. Bruffett, according to a statement made by her today.

Mr. Bruffett is then expected to occupy the pulpit, and will give as many reasons for succumbing to Cupid's arrows, he said.

Arrangements have been completed for a special musical program for the opening evening, and a large orchestra and choir already has been selected.

Services will be held each evening, beginning at 7:30, and three times on Sundays, for four weeks, it was declared.

OREGON BEATS HUSKIES
PULLMAN, Wash., Jan. 28.—The undefeated University of Oregon basketball team continued its spectacular career when it defeated the Washington State college quintette, 34 to 22, last night.

The distinction of the oldest bell in Europe is claimed for the largest of the bells in the town steeple of Lanark, Eng.

The pearl divers at Tatoka, Japan, are all young women.

AUSTIN SIGNS 16TH CONTRACT WITH BROWNS

Jimmy Austin, veteran coach, scout and "pepperbox" of the St. Louis club of the American league, took a fountain pen from his vest pocket today, shook it a little and affixed his signature to his eighteenth major league baseball contract. It was the sixteenth document he had signed with the same club, St. Louis, a record excelled only by Walter Johnson, Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker and one or two other of baseball's immortals.

As soon as the veteran signed his contract he took it to Uncle Sam's post office here and sent it through the mails. No sir! Jimmy Austin is no holdout.

Jimmy, who admits to some 43 summers, broke into baseball in 1904 with Dayton in the Central league. His first spurge in the big came in 1909 when he went to the New York Yankees, having been sold by Omaha.

The Yankees traded Austin to St. Louis for Hartzell in 1911 and with the Browns Austin has been ever since.

Austin has received orders from St. Louis headquarters to leave Santa Ana February 14 in time to open the Browns' training camp at Tarpon Springs, Fla. The St. Louis pitchers and catchers are scheduled to report February 23 and Manager George Sisler has requested Austin to be on deck a week earlier to arrange for hotel accommodations and other necessities. Opening the Browns camp is Jimmy's annual task.

Dennis White, the big Santa Ana pitcher, will go to Tarpon Springs with Austin for a tryout with the Browns. Willie Rengel and Abe Johnson, Laguna Beach players, will report to the Tulsa club at Tulsa, along with "Tuffy" Tyrrell of Santa Ana, on March 14.

BOXERS ARE FINED

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 23.—Babe Herman, New York featherweight, and Bobby Garcia, Baltimore, were fined by the Pennsylvania Boxing commission for unsatisfactory work in a recent contest. Herman was fined $400 and Garcia $693.

LEGION QUINTETTE DEFEATS J. C. FIVE; PRICE MAKES 14 OF TEAM'S 26 POINTS

Ray Price, tall Orange boy who tips off the ball at center for the Santa Ana American Legion basketball team, was the one who nipped the hopes of the Santa Ana junior college five when the squads clashed last night in the "Y" gymnasium. The Legion won, 26 to 14.

Price alone scored enough points to hold the collegians. He made 14, equalling the total scored by Coach Graham Harris' squad.

During the first period the college team took the elad and had the World war veterans on the defensive. The first baskets were scored by Smith and Labrucherie. The Legion quintette retrenched and began their battle that brought

GULLIBLE 'FRISCO FANS PAY TO SEE GRANGE GET SMEARED

The highly advertised "Red" Grange and his Chicago Bears found the going somewhat tough at San Francisco last Sunday, the bay city pro eleven winning their game at the Kezar stadium, 14 to 9.

Grange's Grange in action. He didn't do anything against the San Francisco outfit. He was brought to earth an instant after this photo was snapped. He did take away about $10,000 of San Francisco gold.

EXPERT THINKS SUZANNE WILL CONQUER HELEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Helen Wills, American tennis champion, will be beaten several times during her European invasion by players other than Miss Suzanne Lenglen, world's champion, according to Samuel Hardy, veteran tennis star and manager-captain of several American Davis cup teams.

In a copyright article appearing in the New York Telegram yesterday, Hardy pointed out the strength of the French girl's game and several weaknesses in form of the young California star.

"Friendly as I am with our champion," Hardy writes, "I cannot ignore the pressing claims of Suzanne's brilliant style, her greater experience, her speed and the perfection of her technique."

"I fear that Miss Wills will be beaten several times on the other side and that Miss Lenglen will not be the only one who will score over Helen. Miss Wills' hard ball against Miss Vlasto in the final round of the Metropole tournament indicated that there are breakers ahead for the California miss."

In the mechanics of play, Hardy said, the French girl is the superior in everything but pace. Miss Wills hits a tennis ball harder than any other woman. Miss Lenglen does not like to handle pace. It forces her to play a game that calls for taking plenty of chances and she is not inclined that way. She likes to play a safe type of tennis.

Before Suzanne became the champion over there she played a sharp, daring game, but on attaining the pinnacle she began to play "pat ball."

In discussing the imperfections of the American girl's game, Hardy commented:

"Her backhand is nearly ideal but her forehand is stilted. Slow motion pictures of her game show her arm crooked in an awkward way when making the forehand drive. I brought that to her attention last year and advised that she work hard to overcome that glaring fault, but I have not noticed any change."

TILDEN ADVISES HELEN TO PLAY SMASHING GAME.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Helen Wills, American tennis champion, might be able to beat Miss Suzanne Lenglen on the courts at Forest Hills or Wimbledon but she never will be able to win from the French girl on the Flamingo courts, in the opinion of Bill Tilden, world's singles champion.

"If I were coaching our young champion," Tilden said, "I would advise her to knock the cover off the ball, as a smashing attack like she has might demoralize Miss Lenglen. Her big chance would come if she got the jump and if she went away in the lead she might win."

WILLARD GRADUATES WIN BIG SACK RUSH

BY FLETCHER BUXTON

The sack rush, the annual big sporting event of graduating week, was a feature of the program at the Frances E. Willard junior high school here yesterday.

The two enemies were the graduating class and the low nines, with the latter getting the worst of it.

When the rush began there were 15 heavy sacks in the center of the field. After all the scrapping had been done the graduating class had secured 11 of the coveted sacks, while all the low nines could carry off was five.

The low nines were beaten because they lacked team play, instead of a system. They ran in and were held down while their opponents, who had a few of their men stay back for this purpose, carried off the sacks.

Detroit Southpaw Declines to Come To Coast in Deal

"DUTCH" LEONARD

"Nothing doing on the Vernon stuff," says "Dutch" Leonard, former American league star. Recently he was included in a deal that brought Clyde Barfoot and Jackie Warner to the Detroit Tigers.

Cobb figures Leonard is through as a big leaguer. "Dutch" has a different opinion on the subject.

BERLY REFUSES RETURN MATCH WITH M'TIGUE

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Two more champions, opposing the rule of the New York Boxing commission, have decided to hit the road for parts where the three dukes haven't the big say.

"Charley Rosenberg, who is nursing the world's bantamweight championship, and Paul Berlenbach, light heavyweight titleholder, let it be known today that they would look for business in other parts of the country."

Berlenbach, who has been one of the few pets of the commission, is a sort of a friendly enemy now, but Rosenberg is an out and out rebel.

The commission is ordered Berlenbach to meet Mike McTigue, the former champion, again for the title, but Berlenbach refused on the grounds that there would be little cash and no credit for whipping McTigue.

He asked the commission for permission to meet Ernie Wens, Eddie Hiffman and Young Strubling and then graduate into the heavyweight class, but he was told that he couldn't fight anyone in New York until he had given McTigue another chance.

Dan Hickey, veteran manager of Berlenbach, wants to get him out of the light heavyweight class as he is having trouble making the weight. He has to dry out too much to get down to 175 pounds and Hickey does not want to take the chance of hurting his health and reducing his strength.

By jumping out of the state, Berlenbach will not be punished by the commission as he was four months ago before he could be forced by the rules to defend his title in this state.

Rosenberg's time is up and he was ordered by the commission to meet Bushy Graham of Utica on or before March 19.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 23.—Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, will put in his second appearance before Southern California boxing fans when he meets Buck Holley of Oakland in a 10 round bout at Hollywood tomorrow night.

It is the second change in the Hollywood main event in the past two days. Lou Paluso and Johnny Lamar were originally scheduled for the top spot. Paluso injured his ear and had to cancel, whereupon Phil Salvador was substituted. ## UNEARTH MANY RAPE OBJECTS OF EARLY AGES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—The first month's work of the joint expedition of the University of Pennsylvania museum and the British museum to Mesopotamia, encouraging the archeologists in the hope further excavations will bring forth material for a complete history of man's first settlement in the Euphrates Valley.

A report made public here said the first month's work of the digging season at Ur had been unusually rich in important discoveries and "has taken us straight back to the earliest times."

The expedition is working in the "sacred area" on a site believed to be that of the palace of Dungi, king of Ur in 2350 B. C., and which had been partly excavated in 1854. Numerous graves, dating to a period between 1900 and 1700 B. C. were unearthed and the great temenos wall of Nebuchadnezzar was found well preserved.

"A rare object," the report said, "turned up in the loose rubble filling between the walls. It was a broken diorite statue of the king, with a long inscription on his back, a small statue and headless, but the first of its kind yet known; and better still, the head of a statue of a goddess—probably Nin-Gal, the moon god's wife—dating from the same period, the third dynasty of Ur. This small head, carved in white marble, shows Sumerian art in an attractive guise. The modeling of the features is soft and life-like, and an extraordinary expression of vitality is given the eyes, which are inlaid with shell and lapis lazuli. The hair, originally painted black, is very elaborately rendered. It is a real masterpiece of ancient sculpture."

The Bungi building lies on a high artificial terrace and to its height is probably due the name F-Har-sag, "the house of the mountain," which is far older than the third dynasty of Ur. Around the drains, which pierce the terrace level, was found pottery like that of the first Ur dynasty and inscribed tablets which date back to the fourth millennium before Christ.

Back to 3000 B. C.
On a neighboring site were found what appeared to be dwelling houses attached to a large temple. Under the floor of one of the rooms pottery, stone vessels, gold beads with jewel settings and pendants of silver filigree and half of an alabaster relief carved on both sides were dug up. The alabaster relief represents a boat fastened out of reeds tied together with an arched cabin amidships. On one side is a man standing, and in the cabin are a bear and a goose, while tied against the stern are two fish. The report said this object probably illustrates the life of the people in the marsh districts of Southern Mesopotamia not later than 3000 B. C.

"Then a foot or so further into the rubbish," said the report, "we came upon the main 'find.' Lying touching each other in the soil, and absolutely intact, there were two statues of rams. They were carved in white gypsum, 16 inches high. Only the foreparts are sculptured, the body tapering off to a formless block. As there is a hole through the body of each which would well take a nail, they were perhaps the supports of a throne—the throne of the god Enlil of Eridu, whose symbol was the ram. It is inclined to attribute the rams to 3000 B. C., or rather earlier."

Our Neighbors

LONG BEACH—Nearly $300,000, 600 worth of water traffic flowed through the port of Long Beach during 1925. This was disclosed in the official report of the activity of the port last year by Maj. R. G. McGlone, harbor superintendent, to Maj. Henry A. Finch, U. S. harbor engineer, Los Angeles. The government official requested some months ago that the record be compiled and forwarded to him at the end of the year. It will be transmitted to Washington to go into the official files of the government on harbor matters.

SAN BERNARDINO—Announcement of the establishment of a $100,000 industry in San Bernardino which will at the outset furnish employment to 40 men, has been made by the chamber of commerce. The industry, the main factory of the Cordage Fibre Company, Inc., chose San Bernardino after securing the formation through the chamber's industrial survey which showed that this city is the closest point to its sources of supply at which manufacturing can be done economically.

REDLANDS—Orange shipments from the Redlands district the past week were 140 cars, as compared with 198 cars for the same week last season. Total shipments from Redlands now amount to 942 cars, as against 663 to the same date a year ago.

EL CENTRO.—This city has grown to a population of more than 8000 persons, according to figures presented by City Clerk James Schofield. The announcement of the total was made after the clerk had inspected various records in the city hall. The population here at about 5000. The city is crowded with people. All hotels and apartment houses are filled and several new dwellings are under construction as a result of a lack of housing accommodations. Because of scarcity of rooms, a local hospital has set aside its upper floor to take care of the overflow from the hotels. The visitors here at this time include nearly 100 lettuce distributors and buyers, many of them accompanied by their families. They will remain here until about April 1.

SAN BERNARDINO.—With $5,946,530.62 on hand, San Bernardino county reached its peak in wealth January 1, 1926, according to a report by Treasurer W. M. Williams. An increase of nearly $1,000,000 in funds is shown on January 1 over the financial statement of June 1, 1925, when there was $2,065,521.52 on hand. The gain represents in part the payment of delinquent taxes. A total of $173,714.95 was collected in assessments, $2,172,721.46 in taxes for the first half of 1925-26, and $126,658.24 in tax redemptions. That the money of the county is all earning interest and is not lying idle is shown by the fact that all but just enough to carry the treasurer's office through one week is kept out on interest. Some at fairly high rates of interest, the rest is on call and draws but very little interest.

CANADA ADOPTS PLAN TO GAIN NEW SETTLERS

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The British and Canadian governments and the trans-atlantic shipping companies, have entered into an agreement, under which persons proceeding to Canada this year with assistance under the empire settlement act will be able to travel at greatly reduced rates.

It is in line with public anxiety in Canada over population and the open spaces. While the new rates offer many inducements to emigrate, Canada has given England to understand that "farm workers only need apply."

More Settlers Wanted
There were fewer emigrants to Canada last year than has been the case for many years, and the authorities are hopeful that the new fares agreement will have the effect of increasing immigration. Under the agreement that went into operation on January 1, assisted emigrants will be able to travel to the eastern ports of Canada for £3, instead of £15, 6s as at present, and they will be able to go to Winnipeg for £5 10s instead of £20 10s, and to Vancouver for £9 instead of £25.

Expect Big Increase
The steamship officials estimate the new rates will bring an increase of between 5000 to 10,000 passengers during 1926. The purpose of the scheme is essentially to obtain land workers. Persons applying must have previous agricultural experience and pledge themselves to take up the agricultural work in Canada. The emigrants will be divided into different classes. The new rates schedule applies to emigrants under the old 3000 families scheme under the British empire settlement act.

A family (husband and wife and one or more children) will be entitled to a loan on the basis of the reduced rates and also entitled to free travel facilities for all juveniles under 17 years of age. This class will proceed to prepared farms. The second class—married couples without families—will get the benefit of the cheap travel rates and the Canadian government will find employment for them. The third class—single men between the ages of 18 and 35, with farming experience—will get the benefit of the cheap rates, but no loan.

No Tradesmen Wanted
Provision will be made for a limited number of inexperienced single men, between the ages of 18 and 35. These will not exceed 25 per cent of the total of any one party. The inexperienced man, however, must not be a mechanic or skilled tradesman.

"We do not want skilled tradesmen sent to Canada under any circumstances," says a Canadian official.

Another class—household workers or domestic servants—will be entitled to a partial loan. An emigrant of this class, for example, will pay the ocean rate to the point of debarkation, but will be able to get a loan to cover the railway portion of her journey from the point of debarkation to her destination. If she is proceeding to Toronto, to which town the fare would be $4 10s, she will pay the £3 ocean rate and receive a loan of £1 10s.

Adequate Arrangements
Canada is hopeful that the new agreement will be the beginning of a really concerted movement on behalf of both the home and Canadian governments to settle the right people in the Dominion. It was not considered sufficient to reduce rates. There must be adequate arrangement for the reception of the people.

A gratifying feature of the agreement was the undertaking of the Canadian government to look after the settlers for five years. A first step must be increased agricultural training at home. If the emigration movement was to be any sort of panacea for unemployment, it must be operated concurrently with a system of training. It is admitted, however, that with proper selection, even people without agricultural training could be fitted in.

It is a remarkable fact that of the 12,000 who were sent out to Canada as harvesters in 1923, no fewer than 8000 remained on the land.

FIND OLD TOWN.
KENCHESTER, Eng., Jan. 28.—Excavations on a farm near here have resulted in the discovery of what is believed to be the foundations of the town of the old Roman town of Magna. The lines of the market house, town hall, or law courts, are clearly defined, according to the county surveyor who has carried on the work.

DUMB, BUT BRAVE.
TEHERAN, Persia, Jan. 28.—Reza Khan Pehlevi, new shah of Persia, is a former stable boy and is unable to write anything beyond his own name. When the Khorassan tribes rebelled in 1921, it is told of him that he went alone into the rebel camp and killed the leader, punctuating the uprising.

"FIRE" WINS SEAT.
PARIS, Jan. 28.—Brought into court on a charge of starting a riot, a suburban citizen asserted that he merely had shouted "Fire" in a crowded railway carriage so he could get a seat.

SUNSET BEACH BOY REWARDED BY COMMISSION

SUNSET BEACH, Jan. 28.—Wayne Gilchrist, 19-year-old local youth, is one of three California persons to be awarded a bronze Carnegie medal for bravery. Gilchrist is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilchrist, of Sunset Beach.

The awarding of the medal to Gilchrist was announced yesterday at the twenty-second annual session of the Carnegie-Hawley fund commission. Fourteen of the persons cited for bravery lost their lives in heroic deeds.

Gilchrist was cited for bravery for saving P. Wimbish, 12, a local boy, from drowning in a treacherous rip tide, April 22, 1922.

Gilchrist was 15 years old at the time of the rescue, and was a student at the Huntington Beach high school. He graduated from the high school last year. While in school, Gilchrist was prominent in athletic and student body activities.

Other California persons awarded medals were Alice R. Geary, 416 Highland avenue, San Bernardino, who saved a boy from a runaway team of horses on January 19, 1923, and Mary Blanche Nelson, 6600 Ocean drive, Oakland, who saved a boy from drowning at Camp Curry, June 24, 1923. Both of the other two California residents were awarded bronze medals.

Swab Birch Well In Brea Field

BREA, Jan. 28.—The Birch Oil company, with holdings one mile north of Brea, today was swabbing its No. 2-A well preparatory to placing it on production. The well is located within a few hundred feet of the Fullerton Oil company's No. 19 and since it has been drilled to a depth of 455 feet, it is expected that it will produce from one of the deeper sands now known to lie under this field. On their Nenno lease near Placentia, the Birch-Royer well is giving the company considerable trouble with what seems to be an inexhaustible supply of water. Attempts to lower the water by the use of pumps have proved unsuccessful and it is probable that another water shut-off with cement will be tried. This well is reported as having made a good showing of oil, therefore every known measure will be used to shut out the water before any thought is given to abandoning it.

INDUCT OFFICERS OF LEGION BODY

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Florence Robinson, past president of the Santa Ana American Legion auxiliary, acted as installing officer Tuesday night when four officers of the local auxiliary were inducted. The four officers were not present at the county-wide installation at Santa Ana some time ago. Plans were laid for a card party to be staged at the Legion hall by the auxiliary members in the near future. A communication from Hal H. Ayres, of the Legion News, was read, which revealed that local Legionnaires and their wives could make the round trip to Paris by way of the Panama canal, including a 10-day stay in Paris with all expenses paid, for the sum of $250 per person. Mrs. A. E. Woodard, chairman of the finance committee of the organization, was put in charge of the card party.

More than 12 Santa Ana women were guests at the meeting. Following the installation ceremony and business meeting, a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served. The house committee was in charge of the refreshments. Mrs. Eugene Reber is the chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. Lloyd Clair, Mrs. Lyman Boomer and Mrs. Helen Wolff. ## PETITIONS PROVIDING FOR PERPETUAL UPKEEP OF OLD CEMETERY ARE CIRCULATED

ANAHEIM, Jan. 28.—Proponents of a move to form an assessment district in Anaheim and vicinity to provide for the perpetual upkeep of the old Anaheim cemetery, are today busy circulating a new set of petitions which they hope to present before the county board of supervisors next Tuesday, H. V. Weisel, attorney for the Anaheim Cemetery association, announced this morning.

The new positions call for the formation of an assessment district including 10 school districts in the Anaheim vicinity in place of four as was the case in previous petitions presented to the board January 12. The scope of the project was expanded to meet opposition which revealed itself in certain sections at the previous hearing.

"The district we hope to form will embrace the school districts of Anaheim, Katella, Loara, Orange-Thorpe, Magnolia, Alamitos, Savannah, Centralia, Buena Park and Cypress, all of which are equally interested in the cemetery. Pioneers of all of these districts are buried in the Anaheim cemetery," Mr. Weisel said.

"By forming the larger district, the tax rate necessary for the maintenance of the cemetery will be so small it will hardly be noticeable," he said.

FULLERTON OIL GETS BIG WELL

BREA, Jan. 28.—With the gauges showing a flow of 18 barrels every 10 minutes, the Fullerton Oil company's No. 29 in Brea canyon, which came in with a roar at midnight Monday night, is giving every indication of being the most productive flowing well ever brought in. In the local field, according to reports from the derrick.

All available tankage and reservoir space is being put into service to take care of the flow from the gusher, which was drilled to 4520 feet. Besides the immense oil production, considerable gas is being delivered to the absorption plant of the Pacific Gasoline company, where additional units are being installed to take care of this and other wells expected "in" shortly.

Less than a hundred yards from the gusher, the Birch Oil company is down 4580 feet and almost ready for a production test, while the Brea Canyon Oil company is finishing up a hole in what is regarded as a proven location, and the Shell Petroleum has two strings of tools busy in the same neighborhood.

Across the canyon, the Union company and the General Petroleum have rotary rigs running, and the success of the Fullerton Oil company's production department in putting No. 29 on the flowing list is taken as an indication that much new work will now be undertaken by them.

Believe Vessel Can Be Salvaged

CORONA DEL MAR, Jan. 28.—Herbert Young, the diver, who has been at work on the old vessel in the Newport bay entrance, has been joined by two other men and they are confident they can move the obstruction. Three lines have been fastened to the peninsula shore and by means of capstans and winches, the hulk has been moved a bit further inshore. The men expect to turn the vessel on its side, and in this manner get to the bottom to repair it. Young states that he at one time salvaged a vessel in this way. It took him a long time, he states, but he finally accomplished it, and he thinks he will have time to get this one out of the way before the summer season begins. The government officials have signified their intention of assisting him if it can be done. The Van Tuna, owned by the diver, lays alongside as the work goes on to be ready for any emergency.

EVENING SALUTATION

Mercy is mightiest in the mightiest: it becomes The throne monarch better than his crown: His scepter shows the force of temporal power, The attribute to awe and majesty, Wherein doth sit the dread and fear of kings; But mercy is above this sceptered sway,— It is enthroned in the heart of kings; It is an attribute to God Himself; And earthly power doth then show likest God's, When mercy seasons justice.

REGISTER FOR BONDS ELECTION

The registration of voters is always important, but this year it is also important that registration be early in the year. The importance for early registration is due to the fact that the new great register alone will be used for the harbor bond election that is to be held April 7.

January is always the heaviest month for registration, for during that month registration deputies cover residence sections and gather in as many registrations as possible. When registrations are harder to get and the income of the deputies is reduced to a point where it does not pay to canvass for further signatures, registrations drop off.

Up to the present, less than 12,000 voters have been registered. That number will grow from month to month until, by November 1, the total will be 43,000 or 44,000. Those who vote April 7 must have been registered at least thirty days prior to that date. It seems quite likely, then, that by March 7, which will be the closing day for receiving registrations for the harbor bonds election, there will be not more than 22,000 voters on the books, possibly not more than 20,000.

Less than fifty per cent of the voters will be registered in time for the bonds election, and of that fifty per cent, how many will vote on the important questions involved in the two bonding proposals, one for $650,000 and the other for $550,000? The decision will be in the hands of a small proportion of the voters of the county.

It behooves every person who desires to express himself either for or against either or both of the proposals to see to it that his name is on the great register. In Santa Ana, registration booths are to be found on the street. Voters may register at the county clerk's office in the courthouse or in the city clerk's office in the city hall. County Clerk J. M. Backs has done his duty in providing opportunities for registration. Deputies have been named by him in every community in the county. Any voter who does not know where a registration deputy can be found in his community can quickly locate one by making inquiry.

COTTON AND GOLD

It is hard for citizens in other states to realize how seriously California has gone after cotton-raising honors. The determination to become an important cotton state has been kept alive by a few earnest Californians for 75 years. Their efforts are now bearing rich fruit.

The Department of Agriculture says that for several years California has produced more cotton than Virginia, the oldest of the cotton-producing states. California's yield per acre is the highest of any cotton state. Last year the average yield of cotton for the whole country was 162.3 pounds per acre. California's yield was 351 pounds per acre. And it is good cotton. California Acala cotton sells at a premium. A rigid quarantine against the boll weevil is maintained.

The first cottonseed planted in California was brought into the state while the gold rush was still on. It was a wise and foresighted citizen who took the time and pains to plant and raise that first small cotton crop in the midst of the craze for gold. The cotton is likely to prove a lasting "gold mine."

A business authority says the automobile industry, to keep going, must "find 2,000,000 new drivers a year." Easy enough. Let 2,000,000 men teach their wives.

INDUSTRIAL SUICIDES

There is to be no federal action, apparently, in the hard coal strike. The operators and miners are to be allowed to fight it out themselves, with the weapons of debate and starvation.

That is fair enough, perhaps. As far as the general public can see, the two parties concerned were about equally responsible for shutting down the mines, and have about equally good cases, and suffer about equally from the strike, in loss of present wages and dividends and protracted loss of a good market.

The two groups can be allowed to fight it out in this suicidal way because hard coal is not absolutely essential. There is an ample supply of soft coal to take its place. Many are inconvenienced, but there is no serious deprivation.

It might be a good thing if there were often a perfectly good substitute available when a particular industry started a civil war of its own, regardless of public interest. There would be fewer strikes and lock-outs then. They would all learn a lesson, as the anthracite industry is learning one now.

It's all right to save rubber, as Secretary Hoover urges. But rubber, you know, can be stretched just so far.

ACTUAL DISARMAMENT

Disarmament in Europe is slow but progressive. There are about 3,000,000 men now under arms on that continent. A few years ago there were perhaps 40,000,000.

The Locarno agreements are bearing fruit and hastening the process. Belgium and Poland, with their security now guaranteed, are reducing their forces materially. So are the big powers giving the guarantees, because they now have less fear of each other.

The Central Powers are virtually disarmed by the Versailles treaty. Germany, Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria have less than 200,000 soldiers among them. The Scandinavian countries and Switzerland are demobilized. Several other small countries have hardly any troops worth counting.

The big armies, in order of size, are those of Russia with her 550,000 men, France with 420,000, Italy with 308,000, Spain with 262,000, Britain with 157,000, Roumania with 146,000, Yugoslavia with 127,000 and Greece with 86,000. The world will breathe more freely when they are cut in two, especially the first three. That is the business of the immediate future.

England strikes a new note in disarmament, in the recommendation of the British cabinet that $100,000,000 be struck from the air expenditures program. That should give the preliminary disarmament conference, in which Uncle Sam joins, something to talk about. It invites the powers, after quitting competition in sea armament, to avoid competition in air armament.

This Wrong Is 74 Years Old

Fresno Republican

A very worthy motive lies behind the bill by Congressman Raker of California, to permit the pressing of Indian claims in California.

Also there is chance for very serious abuses unless the field of claims to be authorized by it is very closely scrutinized.

A very great injustice was done to the Indian tribes of California.

Some of that injustice may be in a measure compensated. The problem for the U. S. Government is whether, in the hope of doing justice to the amount of a dollar, it shall waste a hundred dollars, in the encouragement of fraud.

It was in 1852, that a "treaty" was drafted with some tribes of Indians in California, providing for compensation for the taking of their land. That was seventy-four years ago. The treaty was never ratified by the senate. Those Indians are long ago dead. If their children have based any of their life on expectation of the fulfillment of this treaty, that expectation has long ago been blighted.

The wrong and the sin done to the Indians of the treaty can not be abated. Partly it was in the taking of their land; partly it was in intrusion into their territory and the upsetting of their way of life. For that we can make no payment, even if we were inclined.

The real compensation that we could give now would be to give the descendants of these Indians the best equipment for acquiring a livelihood under present day, not Indian, conditions.

A commission that would be given some arbitrary power of opinion and judgment, could search out these cases. It would give some provision for the old age of those who are now in poverty and can not attain new skill. The younger ones can be trained.

Any proposed compensation that will give to some Indians of the present day a free gift because their ancestors were cheated out of their California land, will be money thrown away. Compensation can not save our consciences for the real wrongs that were done. It should at least be handled in a way to do some actual good, now.

Cherish Memory of Pioneers

Pasadena Star-News

California was pioneered splendidly. Its pioneers were exceptional men and women. They had to be exceptional, to brave the perils and to meet the obstacles of life in this state in its early formative years. Many of them passed through extreme dangers from hostile Indians and desert aridity, to get here. And the struggle for existence and to bring about fruitful development here, would have daunted weak souls. But these pioneers were stout of heart and strong of courage. They had their faults—many of them. But, in most cases they were generous faults. And they had their rugged virtues, too. They laid the foundations of a great commonwealth—they laid the foundations deep and strong. And the superstructure has grown and thrived and become the marvel of the world.

It is a most excellent work the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West are doing in preserving the chronicles of the early days in California; in collecting and making available to the world data on the romantic history of pioneer days in California; and in erecting tablets and memorials to the hardy pioneers.

These empire-builders of the young days of the Golden State deserve to be memorialized. They wrought gloriously. They built better than they knew. This generation has come into the golden fruits of their wise and courageous building. It would be rank ingratitude and unpardonable ungraciousness for the California of today to forget or to ignore the California of the middle of the nineteenth century, and the brave bands who came here and became the founders and developers of modern California.

ON KEEPING THE CHILD HEALTHY

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first of a series of three articles dealing with children's diseases. Tomorrow: Measles, scarlet fever and diphtheria.) Those who are entrusted with the care of a considerable number of children find that anxiety lest one of the contagious diseases break out among their charges is one of the principal cares which beset them.

Although some of these children's diseases are usually mild there is none that may not be serious. At one time it was thought that measles and whooping cough were relatively unimportant diseases. Now it is generally known that these two contagious diseases common to children are frequently serious in their results.

The prevention of these contagious diseases lies largely in the avoidance of contact with the infection. In order to carry out this prevention it is necessary to isolate cases from the rest of the children on the appearance of the very first symptoms of the disease and therefore it is necessary for those who take care of children to observe keenly any slight indisposition which may be the earliest sign of trouble.

A child who develops an illness of any sort should be kept from other children until it is definitely known what ails him. It is highly important that parents should be able to recognize the beginning symptoms of the common contagious diseases.

It is well known that the beginning catarrhal stages of measles and scarlet fever at the onset are contagious even though the eruption or breaking out on the skin does not appear for some time.

In measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, diphtheria, and mumps, the contagion is probably spread by the moist invisible particles thrown from the throat in coughing or speaking. The sneezing of the initial stage of measles is particularly dangerous and the handling of objects used by such persons as well.

The length of time between the date when the disease is "caught" and the date of the first symptoms vary with the different infections. This period, known as the incubation period, for measles and whooping cough is roughly from ten to fourteen days.

In scarlet fever the incubation period is from two to seven days. In diphtheria, the incubation period is from two to five days, in mumps, German measles and chicken-pox from two to three weeks. All children under preliminary observation should be examined by a physician and should have cultures taken of nose and throat to exclude carriers of diphtheria.

One Lacked Sincerity

San Francisco Chronicle.

Reading of the visit paid by Captain Roald A. Amundsen to Dr. Frederick A. Cook in Leavenworth penitentiary, one is struck by the contrast between the destinies of these two men who have a common bond in the frozen North.

For Dr. Cook, faker as he is, did invade the Arctic, although of course his expedition cannot be ranked with any of Amundsen's. He did face enough of the hardships and dangers of a sincere dash to the Pole.

Cook, detected in his false claim to discovery of the Pole, reaped nothing but shame from an exploit that he might readily have made an expedition entitling him to some claim of fame.

It was the same kink in character that got Cook into his present trouble. He went into Texas oil promotion. There is nothing inherently evil about Texas, or oil, or promoting. Cook's ability to convince people raised enough capital for a legitimate enterprise and he certainly worked as hard as though the enterprise had been legitimate. Had he been on the square, he might well have made more money than he got by defrauding investors. Some men gain fortune and respect in the industry that led Cook to a felon's cell.

Not lack of ability or energy, but lack of sincerity brought Cook to disgrace. Honesty of purpose brought Amundsen to honor. But, adventurers both, they found a common ground of interest that occupied them for three-quarters of an hour in the penitentiary.

Worth While Verse

UNDER THE MICROSCOPE

A drop of water, and a microscope.
A dirty brown speck on a square of glass—
I borrow eyes—O world within a drop!
A nameless organism twists and moves
Struggling to make way, and back and forth
Whirling, gains—the hundredth of an inch?
Beset by fears, it shrinks, recoils again
And goes on groping, agonizing there.
—Always the finite struggles on, and twists
Upon itself, and tries to spiral out
To gain a way—and finds a fear—recoils,
And tries a new way—gains a fractional inch;
O world within a drop—O world without!
—Elizabeth Whitney.

The Very Idea!

By Hal Cochran

WANDERLUST

A wee little scamp, with the heart of a tramp, was scolded one day by his mother. He wasn't jes bad, but the troublesome lad was constantly teasin' his brother.

When his maw threw a fit—well, it rubbed him a bit, and he pouted an' fretted all day. 'Twas just the same story. Said he, "They'll be sorry, 'cause now I'm fer runnin' away."

The thought of it thrilled him. The wanderlust filled him with craving to hie down the road. He packed up a lunch that—while hiking he'd munch, and a broomstick completed his load.

"Gee, maw's gonna miss me," thought he, "She can't kiss me to-right when I crawl inta bed." He planned to run far, where all run-aways are, but he sat on the curbstone, instead.

A thinkin' an' thinkin', with eyes kinda blinkin', he jumped at the first supper call. The runaway threat was the kind all kids get—and his folks never knew it at all.

There's really nothing scary about an automobile turning a corner. But so dog-gone many people do it when there isn't any corner there.

I'd give a poor man the price of a good meal for his wife and family any day in the week, except that, you'd do I want with another wife and family?

He got a drum for Christmas and he sure knew how to treat it. He made such noise around the house His maw told him to beat it.

NOW, HONESTLY—Who ever told you you could get by with very little sleep?

Are you one of the flock? If not, why wait until it is too late? Benefit by the experience of others.

PREHISTORIC

Pictures made by cave dwellers in France and Spain many thousands of years ago are being studied by scientists from a new viewpoint.

Many of these pictures are of horses. The various types shown are being examined for the purpose of shedding light on the origin of the breeds existing today.

The drawings are not crude or childish. Many of them would be very creditable today for their style and spirit.

Some of them are colored. In addition to the horse, they show the reindeer, mammoth, bison, ibex, bear, tiger and rhinoceros.

Some of the drawings date back 10,000 years B. C. There are many of them in France. The cave of Combarelles is especially noted for the remarkable pictures it contains.

There are numerous groups of caves in France, once inhabited by primitive people, who left the record of their life upon the walls.

There are many in Spain, also, but mostly of a later date than those of France.

What Old Age Means Today

By Hugh S. Cummings, Sur.-Gen., U. S. H. P. Service, Member Gorgas Memorial Institute.

It is difficult to define "old age." Time was when forty years was looked upon as the beginning of this period. Now some are old at sixty while others are mentally alert at eighty.

There is a great tendency among persons reaching a certain age to persuade themselves that they have reached the last chapter of the book of life they seem to think that both mental and physical activities should be abandoned. They do not realize that effort should be made to preserve that happy state of mind and purpose that renders old age a period of comfort and enjoyment.

Mental, as well as physical diversion, and even useful occupation are essential to true happiness and well-being in old age as in nearly every other period of life. The helpless, hopeless, semi-despairing attitude into which many elderly persons are allowed to sink is conducive to premature mental breakdown.

With reasonable attention to certain well defined and easily applied measures and the observance of simple and reasonable hygienic principles it is possible to grow old gracefully and comfortably, and happily. The time to prepare for old age is in youth and early adult life.

It is not expected that under present conditions the layman will possess information which will enable him to apply all of these principles without aid. He must depend on his own family physician for guidance. He should learn to appeal to his physician before he becomes ill. This is already being done to a greater extent than is realized. In many cities, physicians are noting that they are receiving an increasing number of visits from business and professional men of all ages who want to know each year just where they stand physically.

Many men on reaching middle life first learn that they are not well when they apply for an increase in their life insurance. They are shocked when told that they are not eligible for increased insurance, except possibly at increased rates or perhaps not at any rate. Had these men been examined at regular intervals the beginning of such conditions would have been discovered and in many cases the causes would have been removed and the trouble obviated.

Among the diseases and conditions that bring about premature old age and which cause many untimely deaths may be mentioned heart disease, cancer, rheumatism, hardening of the arteries, nervous and mental disorders of the milder classes, and diabetes. Much can be done to prevent the development of these diseases if effort is made in time.
